Two Weeks Trial For Tiburon Tram

The City of Tiburon is going into the tram business.

The Tiburon City Council agreed last night to put up $325 of the $1,225 two-week rental of a motorized cable car to provide a tram service in downtown Tiburon on an experimental basis. The Tiburon Chamber of Commerce and Main Street Merchants Association will each pay $300, and an anonymous donor has guaranteed $600, reported Ctiy Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose.

The tram will run on weekdays, commencing at 12:30 p.m., June 5 to 16. No fares will be charged by the cable car, which is expected to pass any given point in the four-block waterfront business area every eight minutes, Rose said.

The cable car will also meet the 6 p.m. ferry from San Francisco at the Main Street dock, delivering commuters to their parking lots.

Rose said the cable car, to be rented from Cable Car Advertisers Inc. of San Francisco, should be far cheaper than adding parking spaces, which he estimated cast $3,000 apiece to buy and improve.

He said the experiment may include one or more daily runs to Strawberry Shopping Center.

If the cable car proves a success, Rose said, the city may apply for federal funds to help underwrite it on a permanent basis.

San Rafael To Study Charter Revamp Idea

By FRANK FARRARA

San Rafael City Council decided last night to look into the legal and financial ramifications of having a board of freeholders revamp the city charter.

Councilman John A. Miskimen noted that he and Councilman Fred E. Jensen had urged during the recent election campaign that a board of freeholders should undertake charter revision.

Councilman Louis H. Baar objected, saying such a move would be a "slap in the face" to the charter revision committee, and "poor timing."

The committee spent months studying the charter before making recommendations to the council, and the council "where we saw fit" placed recommendations on the ballot last month, he said.

"Some were voted in and some were voted out," Baar said. "What happens to all the amendments the people voted on?"

Jensen said a board of freeholders would rewrite the entire charter and it would go to the voters for approval without any changes by the council.

"It's no reflection on the charter committee," Jensen said. "If there's any criticism, it should come to the council. We didn't follow their suggestions, because we saw fit not to agree."

Miskimen said, "It's very difficult to decide what should be put to a vote." A board of freeholders "would have no axe to grind," he contended.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said the council took some of the "meat" out of the charter committee's recommendations. There were some objections to this procedure, which "destroyed a great deal" of the committee's work, Bettini said.

Councilmen asked City Atty. David Menary Jr. to look into the legal procedure for having a board of freeholders.

Councilmen also said they want an estimate of the costs. "The costs would be substantial," Menary said.

Dodd Asking Friend To Halt Fund Party

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., said today he has requested a friend in New Haven to call off plans for a $100-a-plate testimonial dinner for him.

Earlier Arthur T. Barbieri, New Haven Democratic town chairman, had announced he was arranging the dinner with the funds raised to be earmarked for Dodd.

DOPE PROBLEM

The Growing Storm: Teen Hippie Influx

By HAROLD V. STREETER
(First in a series)

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An 18-year-old high school girl disrobed and ran nude through the little town of Soquel in Santa Cruz County.

Her eyes were ablaze with a strange light. When officers grabbed her, she fought them fiercely. The girl had taken the hallucinatory acid drug, LSD.

In North Sacramento, the pastor of a Protestant church started a coffee house for teen-agers. Word got around that more than coffee was being served. An informal raid turned up nothing.

The pastor did his own investigating. He confirmed that some teen-agers were bringing in marijuana. The church coffee shop —in the words of Sheriff John Misterly—"had been turning into a regular hippie joint, the beards and long hair and all." The pastor closed it.

From all over the state—Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, San Diego, Fresno, Sacramento, San Jose—the report is the same. In the past year, there has been an awesome increase in teen-ager arrests for using marijuana. In the past few months, there has been a startling tryout of LSD.

"There has been a dramatic increase in the rise of marijuana

Board Votes Drugs Bureau

Marin County supervisors today agreed to creation of a narcotics bureau in the sheriff's department that would serve both cities and unincorporated territories, as recommended by the Marin County Grand Jury.

The action, on motion of Supervisor John F. McInnis, committed $52,557 in the next fiscal year to add four inspectors to the sheriff's staff, establish a $3,000 vehicle operation fund and a $2,000 fund for undercover purchases of drugs and narcotics as evidence for arrests.

The allocation, less than the $69,858 for five inspectors recommended by the Grand Jury, was reduced because the sheriff already has a full-time inspector assigned to the nareotics problem.

Supervisors, also on McInnis' motion, invited cities and school

HONOR MEDAL: HE DIED TO SAVE BUDDIES

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson conferred the Medal of Honor posthumously today on a Marine sergeant who gave his life to save his comrades in Vietnam.

In a ceremony honoring Sgt. Peter S. Connor, Johnson warned that "the angriest voices of dissent" against current war policy should be prepared to pay a price for their position.

The nation's highest award was presented, in a Rose Garden ceremony, to Connor's widow and 8-year-old daughter from Oceanside. Connor died when he muffled the explosion of a faulty grenade with his own body to prevent the weapon from injuring or killing members of his platoon.

Two Inmates At Quentin Walk Away

Two San Quentin Prison inmates, who would have been considered for parole before the end of the year, showed officials last night they couldn't wait the official verdict. They walked away from the minimum security barracks.

Police forces throughout the state were today on the lookout for Donald Paul Alvarado, 34, convicted burglar, and Walter Glenn Castro, 35, narcotics offender.

Both were missed from the 10 p.m. bed check at the barracks, which are outside the prison walls. When last seen they were wearing prison blue denims, said Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

Alvarado has been paroled three times since his 1958 conviction for second degree burglary. Violations involved theft and narcotics. He was serving a six months to 15 years sentence.

Castro was sentenced to six months to 10 years for possession of marijuana and had been paroled three times since his original conviction. He was due to appear before the Adult Authority again in October, while Alvarado had a hearing set for December.

Tiburon Annex Move Approved

Tiburon Planning Commission last night recommended the council approve a petition from 57 residents to start annexation proceedings for all unincorporated areas of the Tiburon peninsula.

The council met jointly with the commission and adopted its resolution of consent to the proceedings.

Proponents of annexation are now authorized to publish a notice of intention to circulate petitions, city Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose said today.

Reagan Flays Opposition To Medi-Cal Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan said today he's "hard put" to explain Democratic opposition to a compromise plan —one he helped to work out— to solve the immediate financing problems of the state's medical assistance program.

Reagan added at his weekly news conference that there's "an awful lot" of the $900 million-a-year program he doesn't like and warned of a possible trend of such programs to a nationalized health service.

FINANCIAL HOLE

But Reagan added, "No one in this country should be denied medical care because of lack of funds" and he has no intention of trying to do away with the Medi-Cal program, caught in a deep financial hole because of under-estimation of its costs.

The Assembly—led by Democratic Speaker Jesse M. Unruh —refused Friday to agree to the compromise finance plan and a joint legislative committee was at work today trying to iron out some solution.

Spencer Williams, State Health and Welfare Agency administrator, has announced plans to begin phasing out the program this week if the legislature can't agree.

ERRED IN CUTS

On other subjects today, Reagan:

Admitted he erred in announcing Mental Hygiene Department job cuts were based on a level of care as of Jan. 1. Instead, it's last July 1. Reagan said he didn't realize the level

LBJ Signs Law To Thwart Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law today legislation postponing for another 47 days the threat of a nationwide rail strike.

Sitting alone at the desk in his oval office, Johnson grasped his own desk pen, rather than one of those he has for ceremonial bill signings, to affix his signature to the measure shortly after 1 p.m.

In the absence of the new law rail shopcraft unions would have been free to strike after midnight.

Marines Win Hill In Murderous Fight

U.S. To Withdraw 35,000 In Europe

WASHINGTON V(UPI) —The United States announced today it would bring home 35,000 troops from West Germany next year even though the Communists apparently have strengthened their forces on the other side of the Iron Curtain.

The State Department said 8,000 American combat troops and 7,000 airmen and other personnel, together with four squadrons of combat planes, would be withdrawn from German soil starting next January. The entire redeployment may be completed by mid-1968.

The pullout amounts to a 15 per cent cut in the present estimated force of 225,000 American troops in Germany. This and a companion reduction bz Britain of 5,000 of its 51,000-man Germany-based force was dictated by a money drain — balance of payments deficits that have plagued both Washington and London for years.

The force reductions were worked out in more than half a year of talks by the United States, Britain and Germany — now the cornerstone members of the NATO alliance —even while noting that the Russians and their Eastern European allies of the Warsaw Pact had strengthened their forces somewhat.

Officials also observed that the Soviet Union had significantly greater nuclear power than previously.

The State Department said the three-power consultants concluded that the Communists had given no evidence of a lowering of their guard.

U. S. officials were optimistic that the unilateral pullout of troops by the two key western allies might cause the Russians to make some kind of reciprocal move —but they did not appear really hopeful.

The force reductions by Washington and London were dictated by economics, but officials who had been dropping advance hints of such action insisted that it would not have a significant effect on the west's ability to cope with any possible Communist attack.

The accord was announced just a week after President Johnson conferred with West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger when he was in Bonn for former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's state funeral.

There are eight U. S. Air Force squadrons of F4D Phantom II jet fighters in Germany and one other squadron which is now converting to F4Ds from F105D Thunderchiefs.

Two Weeks Rest For 'Surveyor 3'

PASADENA (UPI) — America's Surveyor 3 performed a final day's work today as scientists as Jet Propulsion Laboratory prepared to shut down the moon robot prior to the two-week lunar "night."

The shutdown was neecssary because power to run Surveyor's electric motors must be converted from the sun's rays by a solar panel. Temperatures during the period of darkness plunge to a frigid 255 degrees below zero, in contrast to the high noon level of 255 degrees above zero.

Victory On Twin Peaks Costly One

SAIGON (UPI) — U. S. Marines today catpured the forbidding twin peaks of Hill 881 just below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) in three days of heavy fighting that sent total casualties of both sides soaring above 1,000, frontlineg dispatches reported.

The major victory was reported as military spokesmen announced U.S. Air Force and Navy jets destroyed 11 and possibly 13 Communist MIGs yesterday in the heaviest single blow of the war against the North Vietnamese air force.

NEAR BORDER

The battle for Hill 881 began three days ago. Marines stormed almost to the top time and again but were driven back with murderous machinegun and mortar fire from the bunkers and tunnels atop the 1,500 foot height near the Laotian border.

UPI correspondent Robert C. Miller, reporting from the nearby village of Khe San, said the Marines pulled back yesterday and saturated the hill with bombs, artillery and heavy morters then stormed the southern peak this morning.

ONE PRISONER

Reports reaching Ka San said the Marines reached the summit of the northern peak tonight in fighting so intense only one Communist prisoner was taken.

U.S. Marines estimated they had killed 726 Communists in a week of bitter fighting which began a few miles south of Hill 881 and carried to its peaks. Sporadic fighting also flashed the length of South Vietnam.

In the south, American infantrymen of the U.S. 9th Division reported they had a Viet Cong "main force" battalion surrounded in the Mekong Delta south of Saigon.

Mrs. Kosygin Dies On May Day

MOSCOW (UPI) — Alevei and Klavdia (Claudia) Kosygin played out their marriage like good Soviet soldiers. The premier stoically stood atop Lenin's Tomb for yesterday's big May Day parade while his wife died of cancer.

Mrs. Kosygin

"We all knew Klavdia Andreyevna and highly appreciated her devotion to the cause of the Communist party, her modesty, kindness and responsiveness," said a published statement from party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev and Kosygin's other Kremlin comrades.

For the tall blonde who was the premier's wife it was rare public notice. In the Soviet power elite, as in gentler days in the West, a lady's name is published only upon her birth, her marriage and her death.

Chicago's Milk Supply Cut Off

CHICAGO (AP) — A dispute between dairies and their drivers caused a rush of shoppers yesterday that virtually exhausted supplies of fresh milk throughout the Chicago area.

A strike by the Chicago Milk Wagon Drivers Union against a single dairy resulted in a lockout of deliverymen and inside workers by about 50 dairies affiliated with two trade associations. The "strike one-strike all" agreement among the dealers halted deliveries to all retail outlets.

Retail stores reported depletion of milk and milk products last evening despite efforts of store operators to spread supplies by limiting purchases.

Reporting Pulitzer Prize Starts Another Controversy

NEW YORK (UPI) —The Louisville Courier-Journal and the Milwaukee Journal have been awarded the 1967 Pulitzer Prize for meritorious public service.

The trustees of Columbia University made the choices Monday after meeting nearly 90 minutes to study the recommendations of an advisory committee.

Announcement of the prizes almost immediately set off a controversy concerning the award for international reporting. A 4-1 recommendation by the Pulitzer Prize jury that the award go to the New York Times' Harrison Salisbury for his reporting from North Vietnam was overruled by the advisory board. The board gave it to R. John Hughes of the Christian Science Monitor for a series on the massacres in Indonesia following the abortive 1965 coup there.

The advisory board voted 6-5 to give the prize to Hughes—originally the second choice—reportedly because Salisbury's dispatches failed to give the source of listed casualty figures.

The Courier-Journal was honored for "its successful campaign to control the Kentucky strip mine industry." The Milwaukee Journal was cited for its "successful campaign to stiffen the laws against water pollution in Wisconsin."

Edward Albee won a Pulitzer for his latest Broadway production, "A Delicate Balance," and Bernard Malamud won a prize for his best-selling nover, "The Fixer."

Journalism prizes are $1,000, except the award for meritorious public service for which a gold medal is given. Prizes in letters and music are $500.

Other 1967 Pulitzer Prize winners are:

National Reporting — Stanley Penn and Monroe Karmin of the Wall Street Journal for "their investigative reporting of the connection between American crime and gambling in the Bahamas."

Local Reporting General — Robert V. Cox of the Chambersburg (Pa.) Public Opinion for "his vivid deadline reporting of a mountain manhunt that ended in the killing of a deranged sniper."

Local Reporting Special — Gene Miller of the Miami Herald, "Whose initiative and investigative reporting helped free two persons wrongfully convicted of murder."

Cartoons —Patrick B. Oliphant of the Denver Post for cartoons during the year as exemplified by "They won't get us to the conference table . . . will they?"

Editorial Writing — Eugene Patterson of the Atlanta Constitution for his editorials in 1966.

Disease More Apt To Strike Big Smokers

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Chronic and acute diseases ranging from flu to emphysema are statistically more prevalent among cigarette smokers than those who have never smoked, according to a new U.S. Public Health Service study.

The study, made public yesterday by Surgeon General William H. Stewart, said heart ailments, hypertension, chronic bronchitis, emphysema, chronic sinusitis, peptic ulcer, infective and parasitic disease, upper respiratory conditions, influenza, digestive ailments, and even hearing impairments were more common to smokers—and even those who have kicked the habit —than to the rest of the population.

The tobacco industry claimed the report was misleading. In a six-page critique, the Tobacco Institute charged that the study was "based largely on self-diagnosis and second-hand information."

Stewart emphasized that the study, based on 42,000 household interviews, was not intended to explain the relationship between smoking and disease, but simply to show "the extent of this relationship."

The most striking disclosure was that emphysema and chronic bronchritis, diseases which often lead to slow and painful deaths, are nearly 10 times as prevalent among women who smoke more than two packs a day as among female non-smokers. For two-pack-a-day men, the rate is four times that of male non-smokers.

Corte Madera's Sign Policy Tossed Around

The Corte Madera Town Council last night debated whether to enforce or amend the town's strict sign ordinance, then decided to pass the problem to the planning commission.

Cases in point were large paper signs inside windows of Campbell Bishop Chevrolet Co. at 5880 Paradise Drive and Bianco Cadillac Co. at 201 Casa Buena Drive.

City Atty. Sherrod S. Davis said the town's sign ordinance requires that any sign, lettering or symbol inside or outside a buildnig be computed as part of the area allowed for signs on the property.

"If they are in flagrant violation, cite them," Councilman William W. Collier said, and councilman Harold B. Wagstaff agreed that the law should either be enforced or amended.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said that if the two agencies are cited, the city would also have to cite smaller violators throughout town. Davis recommended that the staff make a convass of such violations.

Councilman Charles F. Pendleton, commenting that Corte Madera has for years had a "very restrictive" attitude toward signs, commented that the two agencies are providing substantial revenue to the town. Wagstaff said temporary signs should not be regulated as strictly as permanent signs.

The council then asked the planning commission to review the sign ordinance, and to consult the business community and local organizations on possible amendments.

Two-Hour Parking Limit Is Voted By Town Council

The Corte Madera Town Council last night approved a two-hour parking limit for streets around the Village Square.

Following the recommendation of Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher, the Village Square Association and the chamber of commerce, the council set a two-hour limit on both sides of Corte Madera Avenue from First Street to Redwood Avenue, and on the east side only from Redwood to 60 Corte Madera Avenue.

The council also set a two-hour limit for both sides of First Street and both sides of Tamalpais Drive from Redwood to Willow Avenue.

The council left Montecito Drive from First Street to Redwood Avenue, the Menke Park area, for all-day parking for commuters, and decided against a staff recommendation that the diagonal parking on Tamalpais Drive be changed to parallel parking.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst and Councilmen Harold B. Wagstaff and Holmes S. Norville favored a four-hour parking limit, but only Norville voted against a motion by Councilman William W. Collier which set the limit at two hours, so the vote was 4-1.

Robert D. Satterthwaite, president of the Village Square Association, said all of the merchants consulted except one beauty parlor wanted a two-hour limit.

Usher presented his proposed budget for fiscal 1968, totaling $771,344, 2 per cent higher than this year's budget, and the council set a field trip to inspect town features relative to the budget for May 13 at 8:30 a.m.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

CERAMICS PERMIT—Granted Eric Norstad a home occupation permit to make ceramics at 30 Alta Way.

Tam Unification Vote On Agenda

A special meeting of the County Committee on School District Organization, to decide whether or not to call a Tamalpais unification election for July 18, has been called for tomorrow in the county superintendent of schools office in Corte Madera.

Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch has opined that another unification election must be held in any district within two years after an election failed. The second Tamalpais district turndown was in June, 1965.

Asst. Supt. Robert L. Stannard said the committee may ignore the date, hoping that a bill now in the legislature which would change the requirement is passed.

First Meeting Is Announced

Bolinas Community Services District directors will hold their first meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in Bolinas Mesa Clubhouse, reported Jose A. Silva, one of three directors elected when merger of Bolinas and Bolinas Beach Public Utility districts in the new district was approved by voters in February.

The merger will be effective July 1. Other directors are Raymond E. Sarraille and George F. West.

Gravel Suit Taken Under Submission

The State Supreme Court yesterday took under submission a four-year-old gravel excavation suit against Marin Municipal Water District that may have far-reaching effect on water projects throughout the state.

A decision is expected with 60 to 90 days in the $275,000 suit brought by Joslin Brothers, operators of a gravel plant on Paper Mill Creek below Nicasio Dam.

In the original suit, filed in Marin Superior Court in April of 1963, Joslin Brothers claimed MMWD construction of the dam had halted gravel flow past plant and thus deprived the company of its material and revenue.

Superior Court Judge Thomas H. Weating upheld the district's opposing claim that no water rights were violated and that in any event rights to water did not extend to materials suspended in it.

That ruling was reversed last December by the District Court of Appaels in San Francisco and the water district appealed this reversal to the State Supreme Court.

Firemen Save A Dog's Life

Tamalpais Fire Department last night saved the life of a "limp" Dachshund rushed into Station No. 1 at 11:30 p.m. by a woman firemen described as hysterical.

The dog was choking and could not breathe, they said.

Their resiscitator's face mask did not fit the dog's snout, so a plastic bag was filled with oxygen and placed over his head. After repeating the operation several times, the dog was revived.

George Hamilton's Brother To Marry

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Helle Melchior, 20, the granddaughter of operatic tenor Lauritz Melchior, plans to marry actor George Hamilton's brother David, 26, friends say.

They said the ceremony will take place May 13 at the Danish church in Los Angeles, followed by a reception in Melchior's house in Beverly Hills.

Sale Of Land To Be Viewed By Marin Agency

Sale for $41,000 of 3.8 acres to Marin City Community Services District will be considered today by County Redevelopment Agency commissioners at 7:45 p.m. in the agency office, 409 Drake Avenue, Marin City.

The parcel, off Drake Avenue, would be used for the district's Manzanita Neighborhood Center. Construction is to begin later this spring.

Housing authority commissioners, meeting there at 8:30 p.m., are to select an architect to design the proposed 20-unit development of low-cost housing for the elderly in Novato. Also on their agenda is a request from the Boys' Club of Southern Marin for an annual $2,000 subsidy.

San Francisco's VD Rate Climbs

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The number of gonorrhea cases reported in San Francisco increased 35 per cent over last year, according to the head of the city's veneral disease clinic.

The VD rate in San Francisco is fourth highest in the nation, according to the National Communicable Disease Center. Atlanta, Washington and Charlotte, N.C. are higher.

WAR

Indications were the ground war might be entering a new phase of violence, matching that the Marines have been waging just below the DMZ against Communist infiltrators for days.

The air war was growing more costly. An Air Force spokesmen said an F-100 sabrejet was shot down over South Vietnam today —the 700th U.S. plane to be lost to enemy fire in both North and South Vietnam. Another 623 planes have been lost to "non-hostile" causes. Helicopter losses from all causes were put at 813.

The air strikes against the North Vietnamese airfields came when Air Force and Navy planes spotted 21 MIGs parked on North Vietnam airfields at Hoa Lac, 24 miles southwest of Hanoi, and at Kep, 37 miles north of the capital.

Tragedy struck near Da Nang when a big U.S. Marine Seaknight helicopter carrying 13 wounded Marines to a hospital ship crashed into the South China Sea last night when an engine failed. Rescue teams found nine survivors but said eight others —crewmen and wounded leathernecks — were feared dead.

The air war was growing in scope and intensity and Communist radio broadcasts reported new air strikes today, but there was no confirmation.

Any U.S. Losses yesterday, if any, will not be reported until tomorrow so as not to imperil rescue attempts.

New Schools Get Named In Novato

Novato's next two schools will be named San Marin High School and Sinaloa Junior High School.

Novato Unified School District trustees agreed to the names last night. The high school will take its name from the subdivision where it is located. The junior high is at Vineyard Road and Wilson Avenue.

Trustee William Schneeflock voted against Sinaloa for the junior high, holding out for Miwok. Trustee Margett B. Boissevain wanted to name the high school Olompali, but went along with the rest for San Marin.

Synagogue Plans

The Marinwood Association will meet at 8 p.m. today at the Marinwood Community Center to discuss plans by Congregation Kol Shofar to build a synagogue and classrooms on a 20-acre site at the north end of Juniperberry Drive.

Warrant Out For Arrest In Burglary

Corte Madera police today sought Alex Keys, 38, of 7 Mariposa Avenue, San Rafael, on charges of burglary and assault with a deadly weapon in the Saturday burglary of Bill's Refrigeration Service in Corte Madera.

Bill Williams, owner of the refrigeration service, surprised a burglar at 6:10 a.m. Saturday in his shop, and the burglar attacked him with two screwdrivers, inflicting scratches on Williams' arms and tearing his shirt.

The burglar escaped, but left his station wagon full of loot from Williams' shop.

Corte Madera police issued an all-points bulletin for Keys at 2 p.m. yesterday. Keys, an employee of the Nelson Fire Extinguisher Co. of San Rafael, is believed to be driving a truck which belongs to his employer, police said. The 1957 General Motors truck has a red and white utility body. His employer declined to consider the truck stolen, police said.

Britain To Seek Entry In Market

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Cabinet decided formally today to apply for British membership in the six-nation European Common Market.

Informants who reported this said Wilson would announce the decision in the House of Commons later.

The decision emerged from a meeting of the Cabinet during which ministers were said to have gone over the terms of Wilson's statement. This is expected to list several issues on which Britian seeks to negotiate safeguards for its vital interests.

Ad Hoc Committee Adopts Member Plan

The ad hoc committee on management of the proposed Civic Center auditorium and fairgrounds last night adopted a report of the membership committee naming 92 civic, art, service and business organizations to the council of proposed non-profit corporation that will manage the facilities.

Sports Car Flips On 101; Woman Hurt

A 34-year-old Mill Valley woman survived apparently without serious injury, when her small sports car hit a Highway 101 guard rail and did a 200-foot aerial "barrel roll" at 11:25 a.m. today just north of the Golden Gate Bridge.

Two California Highway Patrolmen, Michael Mikita and Milton Green, witnessed the crash.

They said Jeanne Theresa Serman of 429 Green Glen Way was southbound in a light sports car when it hit the center guard rail, flew into the air, hurtled about 200 feet, crossing all three southbound lanes, and landed upside-down just off the roadway.

"It looked like an airplane barrel-rolling," said Green.

When the officers reached the wreck, they heard Mrs. Serman crying, "Help! help! Get me out of here!"

Sausalito Fire Chief Charles Masten, who arrived promptly to render first aid, said the woman appeared to have a fractured wrist plus back injuries. Attendants at Marin General Hospital emergency ward said her injuries did not appear to be serious.

Guitarist Will Close Series

Pepe Romero of Spain's "Royal Family of the Guitar" will appear in concert of Flamenco and classical works tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall. This is the final attraction in the spring schedule of concert-lecture events at the College of Marin.

The first half of his program will include works by Lucas Ruiz De Ribayaz, Bach, Tarrega, Villa-Lobos and Caledonio Romero. Following intermission he will play a selection of traditional Flamenco numbers.

Fire Fighting Request Delayed

Belvedere City Council last night received a petition from Crest Road residents for a special assessment district to install bigger water lines to fight fires, but held it up to see if Cliff and Eucalyptus Road residents would also join the district.

Marin Municipal Water District will not enlarge its lines to the hilly areas to provide fire protection, said City Mgr. William L. Cavalli.

He presented the Crest Road petition, which he said included enough names to qualify. But Mayor John R. Moore asked him to see first whether residents on Cliff and Eucalyptus roads would join the petition.

The city would pick up part of the cost, councilmen agreed.

Newspaperboy Hurt While Collecting

An Independent-Journal newspaperboy was injured, not seriously, in an assault in Santa Venetia Friday night, sheriff's officers reported belatedly today.

Mark Williams, 13, son of Sgt. and Mrs. George R. Williams, 620 Rosal Way, Santa Venetia, told officers he was collecting from subscribers on La Brea Way about 8:45 p.m. when someone jumped from behind bushes, struck him over the right eye, then wrestled him to the ground. The youth shouted and his assailant fled, he said.

328-Pounder Needs Two Pair Of Handcuffs

Force and two pair of handcuffs were needed Sunday night to arrest a six-foot, 328-pound man who had allegedly broken into his estranged wife's home and terrorized her and her three children, San Rafael police said today.

Police said Robert Joe Palmer, 36, of 523 D Street, San Rafael, entered the home of Pauline Palmer at 237 D Street by breaking a rear screen door, then pushed her and cursed at the children.

When officers sought to arrest Palmer in the driveway of the home, they reported he said they would have to shoot him to take him to jail. When Patrolman Terry Lucchesi moved in for the arrest, police said, Palmer pushed the officer.

Palmer was then knocked down. Officers needed an extra set of handcuffs to bind him because of the size of his wrists, they said.

Palmer was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut head, then booked into Marin County Jail on charges of being disorderly, malicious mischief, and resisting arrest.

BOARD

districts to support and cooperate with the proposal.

Both actions were by 4-0 vote, with vacationing supervisor William A. Gnoss absent.

All who appeared before supervisors today supported the proposal enthusiastically.

District Atty. Bruce B. Bales said elimination of the county-city line boundary restrictions on investigations would be a first in California.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanous said city police and his department have been able to do little more than make arrests on a complaint basis with possession of drug and narcotic charges. The bureau will allow undercover agents to arrest sellers.

The Grand Jury also recommended drug and narcotics education in the school districts with an annual sum of $21,000 to finance this effort.

Guilty Plea In Narcotics Charge

August Walter Kelley, 21, of Mill Valley, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to possession of a device for smoking a narcotic.

Deputy Dist. Atty. John Ralph Thomas then informed Judge Peter Allen Smith that no felony charge will be filed against Kelley, 21, his wife, Anna, 20, and David Ernest Harris, 19, because of insufficient evidence.

The three, all of 101 Sarah Drive, were charged with marijuana possession at the home Jan. 18. They were bound over to Marin Superior Court by Judge Smith April 18.

Supervisors Named For Bridge Session

Marin County supervisors Peter H. Behr, Thomas T. Storer and Ernest N. Kettenhofen will represent the county at a session in Sacramento called by State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, on May 15 to discuss the future of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

The bridge district board and the San Francisco Board of Supervisors will each be represented by three members at the session, set for 9:30 a.m. in Room 3189 of the State Building.

REAGAN

Said of Vietnam, "I think we have to call this a full-scale war" but declined to say that Congress actually should declare formal war.

Indicated he favors some portions of a bill, now in the Senate, to liberalize California's 95-year-old abortion law, but also thinks there is "some danger there of opening this up" too far.

On the mental health cuts, a reporter pressed Reagan to say who decided on what basis the 3,700 Mental Hygiene Department jobs should be eliminated.

"Isn't it your responsibility to set the level?" Reagan was asked.

"You're nit-picking," retorted Reagan.

Reagan said the change in date had no effect on the change in staff numbers or the level of care.

On another subject, Reagan said he disagrees with last week's remarks of U.S. Chief Justice Earl Warren, a former Republican governor of California.

Warren told a Berkeley audience he opposes tuition and budget cuts at the university—both items proposed by Reagan.

Banker Found Dead At Home

LAFAYETTE (UPI) —A San Francisco bank executive was found shot to death last night, shortly after he returned home from his installation as exalted ruler of the Berkeley Elks Lodge.

He was Robert Dudley McIntyre, 51, assistant manager of a United California Bank branch.

His wife, Betty, 36, said McIntyre went into a bedroom and closed the door. A few minutes later she said she found him sprawled on the bed, a gunshot wound in his head and a .25 caliber pistol beside him.

The wife could give no reason for him to take his life.

Parks Priority List Prepared

Novato Parks and Recreation Commission last night re-adopted a 15-point priority list for 181 acres of parks at an estimated purchase and construction cost of $2,230,000.

The parks were outlined earlier in the Novato master plan.

80 Seeking Marin County Data Post

Eighty persons have applied for the post of Marin County Data Processing director vacated two months ago by Arleigh R. Sewell, County Administrator Alan Bruce told supervisors today.

Bruce asked for a closed meeting to interview the top three candidates when they are selected. Supervisors agreed to the session at 9 a.m., June 2.

Bolinas Deputy

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today said it would consider the request for an additional sheriff's deputy at Bolinas to control tourist problems when the county budget for next fiscal year is debated during the third and fourth week of June.

De La Montanya, who was 60, was found dead yesterday.

A native of San Rafael, he was a son of Herbert De La Montanya, who served as justice of the peace from 1922 until his death in 1944.

De La Montanya was an auto salesman in Marin for many years, and then worked on a ranch in Ignacio until he retired. He lived in San Geronimo with his son, Dean De La Montanya Jr., until the son was killed in an auto accident March 12. He had resided in San Rafael since then.

De La Montanya's grandfather, Hudson De La Montanya, came to San Francisco in Gold Rush days and set up a prospering hardware business, later moving to Marin.

De La Montanya is survived by four brothers, Nick of San Francisco; Lloyd of Fort Jones, Siskiyou County; James of San Geronimo, and Herbert of Sebastopol, and by four grandchildren.

The motorist, Gloria D. Boracchia, 32, of Zephyr Cove, Nev., suffered a cut lip and bruised elbow, but declined hospital treatment. The parked car, belonging to Ernest M. Beckstrom of 902 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was propelled into a brick column in front of 286 Mountain View Avenue by the impact, police said.

Ask any independent financial counsellor. With few exceptions they'll advise life insurance as one of the first steps towards financial security. For young people it's generally the only way to create instant and substantial capital to replace earning power. And the younger you are when you buy, the lower the premiums.
You'll save money in another way too, if you buy cash value life insurance. This contains a living cash benefit that grows through the magic of compound interest. Your policy cash value can be used to finance a college education in the future or to add to a retirement income. In the meantime it's available to you in an emergency, or for a business opportunity. For example, it's about the best loan collateral you can have. "Do you own any life insurance?", is one of the first questions your bank manager will ask.
How do you fit life insurance into your budget? It's easier today than ever. Manufacturers Life's Manu-Matic Check Plan will provide for an automatic monthly deduction from your bank account and free you from budgeting worries. Ask the Man from Manufacturers to tell you more. You'll like his friendly and competent approach to your life insurance problems.

Novato Board Seeks School Sites' Costs

They ordered the staff to get appraisals and estimates of the costs of the development for administration buildings on the Pinheiro property north of Olive Avenue at Second Street and the Baccaglio property on South Novato Bouleavard across from Rancho School.

They also authorized the staff to apply to the state for the purchase of another elementary and a junior high school site in San Marin and another elementary site on Atherton Avenue.

Supt. James G. Bunker said the administration buildings should contain not only the administrative office, but also the district service center, library and warehouse, and a garage for the district's buses. It would require at least six acres, he said.

He noted that the Pinheiro site was on the district's master plan for another elementary school.

The district at present owns elementary school sites, beside the high school, at Marin Oaks, San Marin and at Mill and Trumbull roads. It also owns a high school site in San Marin and a junior high school site at Wilson Avenue and Vineyard Road. Schools are to be constructed on these within the next year.

Irving D. Chapman Jr., who was elected to the board on April 18, last night was appointed to fill out the term of William Vandergriff, who resigned. Vandergriff's term runs to June 30. He did not seek re-election, and Chapman was elected to a four-year term starting July 1.

The Novato Unified School District Board also:

INSTRUCTION — Agreed to hire from seven to 11 reading specialists for next year, keep the seven curriculum teachers it now has, and hire one more speech therapist and one more psychologist.

SUBSTITUTES — Heard arequest from Mrs. Jane Sullivan of the Marin County Substitute Teachers Association that substitute teachers receive 175th of the lowest salary paid to teachers. This would be $31.50 per day, up $9 from the $22.50 the district now pays. However, agreed to consider an increase to no more than $25.

NEW TEACHERS — Hired Judith Halstead for second grade at Rancho School, Marianne Hansen for first grade at Lynwood School, George Kashiwagi for metal shop and Patricia Suacci for social studies at San Jose Junior High School.

Bunker Hits At Grand Jury On Narcotics

Novato Unified School District trustees last night voted to put $4,000 into a countywide narcotics education program, although Supt. James G. Bunker said the program had been forced on the district by the grand jury without consultation.

Bunker said superintendents of school districts operating high schools were called into the grand jury last Thursday afternoon and told what the program would be.

"Needless to say, we were all taken aback because nobody had been consulted on it," he said.

"We asked the grand jury for more time to work out a program with the county superintendent, but were not given any."

Bunker claimed the grand jury acted as though it had "a program lined up and would pull a truck in front of the school Monday morning and unload it."

He complained especially because the Novato district had already started work on a narcotics education program, with Gilbert Guerin, personnel services director, in charge. It will be ready to start its own program May 15, he said.

He charged the grand jury with "an invasion of the prerogative of every school board in the county."

The Novato superintendent reported the countywide program would cost $21,000 for next year, with the county school office putting up $6,000 and the remainder being shared by Novato Unified and San Rafael and Tamalpais high school districts.

Mrs. Thoreson Jailed For Gun

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mrs. William Thoresen III was arrested again yesterday — and again the charge concerned a gun.

Mrs. Thoresen, 30, was apprehended with a German submachine gun nestled in her arms and charged with illegal possession of an unegristered automatic weapon. She just had received the gun at the Railway Express Agency.

Federal agents, who also seized her car, confiscated three other packages addressed to her but declined to identify the contents.

County-Wide School Plan On Drug Dangers Proposed

A county-wide school program to teach the dangers of LSD, marijuana and other dangerous drugs was outlined to the Marin County Board of Education last night by Asst. Supt. Stanley Friese.

The county schools office has been working closely with the Marin County grand jury for several weeks on the drug problem in the schools, Friese said.

He gave board members copies of instruction guides for classes on drug abuse for high school, junior high and all-grades programs. A list was also presented of books, films and tapes available for the classes, and a list of Bay area speakers available to talk about drug problems.

ASK FOR MONEY

Friese said superintendents of the four Marin high school districts have agreed to ask their school boards for money to finance their share of the program.

The county schools will provide materials for the drug classes through a narcotics research center, Friese said. The office hopes to have materials and class outlines ready to start classes next fall, he said.

A teacher workshop on drugs is planned this summer to prepare the programs, according to a written report by James Carroll, chairman of the board's educational services committee.

"We have a lot of sick children in this county," Friese said, adding that county authorities agree little can be done to attack the drug problem until the schools take part.

FEDERAL GRANT

The board directed Supt. Virgil S. Hollis to apply for an $11,900 federal grant for a special four-month program at Loma Alta School at Juvenile Hall. The compensatory education project would set up a shop facility, provide psychological evaluation and testing and provide equipment to reenforce classes in English, mathematics, science and other subjects.

The board received copies of the proposed $734,753 budget for special education programs for fiscal 1968, but took no action.

The Marin County Board Of Education also:

WORKSHOP — Was told that more than 100 Terra Linda High School students had volunteered for a six-week training program to become helpers and counselors for physically and mentally handicapped children.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations of business services director William G. Vanasen, Asst. Supt. Robert Stannard, consultant William K. Lowry, data processing coordinator Louis J. Artiaco, and teachers Norman Hermstad, Mrs. Barbara Ward, Allen Parelius, Donna Beckett, and Rodney Tognetti.

MATERIALS — Approved a list of instructional materials, including two films on drugs and one on venereal disease which Friese said would be earmarked for special handling by teachers.

Longest Death Row Resident Gets New Trial

Charley Luther Pike 33, who once was five days away from death in the gas chamber, left for Los Angeles County for a new penalty trial. It was the first time he had been outside Death Row in more than five years.

He arrived in August, 1961, for the murder of LosAngeles Policeman Richard D. Kent and had been under continuous sentence of death longer than any other inmate at San Quentin.

He received two stays of execution. In 1963, Justice Frederick Hamley of the U.S. Court of Appeals granted a stay five days before the execution date.

Edgar Leonard Robinson, 27, arrived on the row, convicted of for the murder of Los Angeles Policeman Keith Dr Puis. Also arriving yesterday was Robert Douglas Hill, 23, convicted of slaying housewife Phyllis Black in Los Angeles.

Also out for a new trial yesterday was Tommy Spencer, 24, who has been under sentence of death since November, 1963.

Yesterday's exchange of prisoners left the count of condemned men at 60, said Associate Warden James W. L. Pike.

The fatal traffic accident rate in Britain is lower than most European countries but slightly higher, on average, than the United States and Canada.

Key ADA Roles For Marinites

Several Marin Democrats will play key roles in the Northern California conference of Americans for Democratic Action at Hilton Hotel in San Francisco Saturday.

Banquet speaker Saturday night will be Richard Goodwin, formerly special assistant to Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, who will speak in opposition to the Vietnam war.

'Sell Public On County Services'

Marin County Employees Association was advised today to undertake a public relations program to get across to taxpayers the services offered them.

Hugh Turner, president of radio KTIM, told a breakfast meeting of the association directors that there was a much need for better communications with the public as with county supervisors.

The supervisors were invited to the "get-acquainted" breakfast at the Kettle Restaurant in San Rafael, and Supervisors Peter H. Behr, Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Thomas T. Storer attended.

Fred Ward, association manager, approved Turner's suggestion and said, "The public just doesn't understand how much service it is getting for its money."

Front Window Hit

The front window of a home at 70 Billou Street, San Rafael, was smashed between Sunday morning and last night, Ralph L. Hornbuckle of Novato, owner of the house, complained to San Rafael police. He placed damage at $60.

A 12volt battery was stolen Sunday from a car owned by Paul D. Burke of 74 Southern Heights Boulevard, San Rafael, police reported yesterday. The car was parked in Burke's garage.

San Rafael Park Signal Requested

Directors of the newly formed San Rafael Park Civic Association last night agreed to seek early installation of a traffic light at Las Gallinas and Lucas Valley roads.

The director learned that the signal is not planned by the county public works department until fiscal 1969, reported Mrs. John Nixon, secretary.

Directors learned that two water tanks planned south of the San Rafael park development by Marin Municipal Water District are to be buried to ground level, Mrs. Nixon said.

Directors will meet again at 8 p.m., May 15, at the home of Arthur T. Lang, 12 Corte Verano.

DETROIT (AP) —Directors of American Motors Corp. voted today to omit payment of a dividend for the current quarter ending June 30.

Odd-Lot Trade Idea Explained

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am puzzled by the differences in purchases and sales in odd-lot trading. For instance, purchases on one day may amount to 475,000 shares. Sales may amount to 400,000 shares. Who supplies the 75,000 shares that were 'not sold' on that day?" R. A.

A. This is a good question and an intelligent one. To answer it I'd better explain how odd-lot transactions are handled. With relatively few exceptions — mostly preferred issues — only round lots (100 share units) are actually traded by auction on the New York Stock Exchange. Amounts under 100 shares, or odd lots, are bought and sold for their own account by odd lot dealters operating on the floor of the Exchange.

The figure at which they buy or sell is exactly the same as the price on the next 100 share unit which is traded after your order is recorded, plus or minus an odd lot differential. The latter amounts to ⅛ of a point, or 12 and one-half cents a share on stocks selling under 55, and ¼ of a point, or 25 cents a share on stocks trading at 55 and above. This, of course, is in addition to the regular commission which your broker will charge you.

Now to come to your question, and not any too soon. Odd-lot dealers are merchants and they carry both long and short positions in stocks. The 75,000 share differential which you noted was supplied by odd-lot dealers and taken from their inventory

Q. "Electric Storage Battery has done well for me. Should I buy more?" W. N.

A. I like Eelectric Storage Battery which has a good basic business and has been working in fuel cell research. It is this factor, I think, which has helped to build up the price of the shares. In general, I believe it would be unwise to become overextended in any single situation, good as the long-term possibilities seem here.

Trans World Air Losses Increase

KANSAS CITY, MO., — Trans World Airlines reported revenues were $177,178,000, an increase of $21.17 million over the first quarter results of 1968.

Net loss for the quarter was $7,697,000, or 84 cents per share, compared with a net loss in the first quarter of 1966 of $849,000, or 10 cents per share.

Chrysler Buys Resisco Inc.

DETROIT (AP) — General agreement on sale of its financing subsidiary, Redisco Inc., to Chrysler Corp. was announced today by American Motors Corp.

The purchase price was not announced, but presale rumors estimated it would be more than $30 million.

Chrysler Credit Corp., a wholly owned subsidiary of the parent automaker, will take over Redisco, which had $313 million in loans outstanding at the end of 1966 and reportedly earned a profit of $3 million to $4 million that year.

No decision was announced on the future of AMC's Kelvinator Appliance Division, reportedly on the sales block with Redisco in American Motors' search for ready cash.

Bankruptcy Racket Hit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The president of Household Finance Corp. said today that some lawyers are making "a wonderful racket" out of urging clients to go into straight bankruptcy instead of using Chapter XIII of the bankruptcy law.

"Straight bankruptcy is more profitable," asserted H. E. MacDonald, in San Francisco for the convention of the National Consumer Finance Association.

Chapter XIII affords a person in deep debt a chance to pay bills under court direction.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

New Radio-TV Shop Is Now Doing Business On D Street

A new television, radio, stereo and high fidelity sales and service business — Electronics Service Center — has been opened at 801 D Street, San Rafael.

Owners Ted Estes and Lyle Rayburn have been in business many years. Both were previously at Klein's TV) Estes was also at Hoy's for a number of years and Rayburn operated a shop of his own in Fairfax for seven years. Estes has recently moved his home to Santa Rosa from Marin. Rayburn lives in Larkspur.

They sell both new and used equipment in addition to their service and repair work. Business hours are from 9 a.m. to 6 pm. Mondays through Saturdays. Estes is outside man; Rayburn is at the bench.

WHITEY'S STATIONERY STORE, 907 Fourth Street, San Rafael has been sold and the owners have taken possession.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Archie McLarty of Berkeley, where they have been in retailing (a variety store operation). They will keep the Whitey's name; no major changes are contemplated.

Former owners Mr. and Mrs. Omri White expect to keep their home in Glenwood and take a vacation — beyond that no plans seem to have been made.

SUMMERTIME is always a busy time for the movers and it appears that about July some of them in Marin will be busy doing their own moving as well as transporting other people's goods from house to house.

At the present time both Crockett's Van and Storage and Global Moving and Storage are sharing one of Carl Rickards' buildings at Hamilton Industrial Park, Ignacio for branch warehouses (Crockett's is headquartered in San Rafael and Global's headquarters are in San Francisco).

Crockett's needs still more Ignacio space and Global would also like to expand in Marin — so what to do?

The problem seems to have been settled nicely. Rickards' brother Homer has agreed to put up a 20,000-square foot building on Paul Drive, Northgate Industrial Park and Global will take 7,200 square feet of it, getting double its present space. Then Crockett's will take over the entire building and also get more room.

Meanwhile in Northgate Industrial Park, American Moving and Storage at 153 Paul Drive also has growing pains — so by the simple process of moving across the street will get the remaining 12,800 square feet in Homer's building.

Confusing? Perhaps — but did you ever see a move that wasn't? This involves three of them, maybe more. I haven't heard yet who may be moving into American's present quarters.

"MANAGEMENT TECHNIQUES" has been the subject of more than one lecture by Dr. George Sugarman of Tiburon—all the way from Marin to the Caribbean, both in English and Spanish.

Today he was called in to discuss the same topic, but as it is related to the military, at Hamilton Air Force Base, before the Air Defense Command Noncommissioned Officers Class. This is part of a new program for insturcting senior non-commissioned officers in a variety of subjects. It was a natural for Dr. Sugarman, who is a former Air Force major.

L. L. BONICALZI of Kentfield has been appointed director of equipment and bus sales for Western Greyhound Lines, San Francisco. He will be responsible for allocating buses on all Greyhound routes throughout the western and central divisions, including disposal of obsolete equipment. Need a used bus — anyone? He has been serving in various supervisorial positions since joining Greyhound in 1946.

Deluxe Hotel Opens Doors At Airport

DETROIT — The first deluxe hotel in the country located within an airport terminal was opened yesterday in Detroit Metropolitan Airport by Interstate Hosts and Western International Hotels.

The 202-room hotel is soundproofed and air conditioned, and rooms have color television, electric blankets, electric alarm clocks, sewing kits and retractable clotheslines.

An instant check-in and check-out service allows a guest with a reservation to direct to a preassigned room on arrival at the airport. For check-out he signs a form in his room and is billed by mail.

The hotel is a joint venture of Interstate Hosts Inc., the nation's leading supplier of airport food and beverage services, and Western International Hotels, a major operator of luxury hotels.

Adjoining the hotel lobby is a dining room and cocktail lounge operated by Interstate Hosts, which operates all food and beverage facilities in the terminal complex.

Interstate Hosts operates food, beverage or gift shop facilities at 12 other major airports, including San Francisco International and Sacramento airports.

Planning Board Vacancy Is Filled

San Rafael City Council last night appointed Joseph John Garbarino of 30 Lochinvar Road to the city planning commission to fill the vacancy created when John A. Miskimen was elected to the council last month.

Garbarino, a graduate of the City College of San Francisco, is an officer of Marin Sanitary Service. He is a member of the Loch Lomond Homeowners Association and the Marin Civic Center Lions Club. He will complete Miskimen's term which ends June 30, 1970.

Councilman Louis H. Baar nominated Garbarino, noting that his letter of application was the only one at hand. Miskimen at first voted "no" but at the end of the roll call switched to "yes" to make the appointment unanimous.

The council re-appointed Troy E. Lewis and Charles L. Tacchi to the parks and recreation commission for four years.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen asked if any council members wanted to serve on the parks and recreation commission, but there were no takers.

As soon as city charter amendments voted April 10 are ratified by the legislature, councilmen will be eligible to serve on the commission.

The council authorized letters to Mrs. Eleanor G. Murray, Joseph G. Wilson and Harold Fulkerson asking if they want to be considered for re-appointment to the library board.

Bettini urged citizens who want to serve on boards and commissions to send their applications to city hall.

There is a vacancy on the board of review, a vacancy on the board of examiners and appeals, and three terms expiring on the library board, he noted.

When the charter changes are ratified, there will be a vacancy on the fire commission, because one charter revision eliminated the fire chief as a commissioner.

Planners Favor New Trailer Zone

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday voted 5-1 in favor of creation of a new zone for trailer parks, with maximum density ranging from eight to 10 trailers per acre.

Commissioner Michael Praszker dissented. Commissioner Claude Stoller was absent when the vote was taken.

The board of supervisors must hoald a public hearing before the ordinance can go into effect.

Conditions include a minimum site of 10 acres for a trailer park and a maximum density of 10 per acre if the trailers are 750 square feet or less. If larger, the density would be restricted to eight per acre.

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday also:

CAPITAL PROJECTS — Endorsed, after little discussion, a $31 million capital improvement program for the county for the next six fiscal years.

BELLEVUE AVENUE PROPERTY — Continued indefinitely the request for rezoning to allow cluster housing on W. R. Armor's property at Bellevue Avenue and South San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, to see how grading for South San Pedro widening will effect the contour of the land.

TAMALPAIS JUNCTION—Put off action on zoning on Marshlands east of Tamalpais Junction, where manufacturing and commercial had been asked, until May 15 to allow property owners to be heard.

NEW TRACT — Approved tentative map for a 16-lot tract proposed on six acres by F. H. and F. T. Smaw at Davis Avenue and Vineyard Road near Novato.

DENTISTS — Agreed that a dentist's office could be a prescribed home use and need not have a use permit if in a residential district.

Novato Area General Plan Action Delayed

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday appeared ready to adopt a general plan covering seven square miles to be added to the Novato area general plan, but put off action two weeks after Manuel Silveira, one of the property owners involved, claimed he did not have proper notice of the proposals.

Silveira said he knew nothing about the residential density based on land slope as proposed, and thought there should be a frontage road with access at several points along Highway 101.

The planning area is on both sides of the highway, includes the San Antonio Valley, and runs to the Sonoma County line.

Silveira said he learned of it a few weeks ago from a story in the Independent-Journal.

The plan proposes Route 37 running up San Antonio Valley on the Sonoma County side, the west out Hicks Valley in Marin County, connecting with Highway 17 somewhere near Nicasio.

The commission urged the staff to seek support for the route from Petaluma and Sonoma county officials and others.

Year's Sentence

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court yesterday gave Richard Douglas Carey, 35, a year in county jail and placed him on three years probation for two counts of possession of checks with intent to defraud. Carey, of San Francisco, had pleaded guilty March 13.

Nuclear Plants Safer Than Coal

PASADENA (AP)—Americans have nothing to fear from nuclear-powered generator plants, a California Institute of Technology professor said yesterday.

Dr. Jack McKee, professor of environmental health engineering, said the natural radioactivity from the smokestack of a coal-fired plant exceeds that of a nuclear plant of the same capacity.

"The safety record to date of commercial nuclear power plants in the United States has been outstanding," McKee said in a talk at the school. "Indeed, there have been no accidents at any reactors that have been operated routinely at normal power levels."

Thieves Using Stolen Checks In Marin Area

Thieves, who stole 50 personalized checks from Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Dolan of 34 Billou Street, San Rafael, have wasted little time in cashing them.

San Rafael police said yesterday that six of the checks, which were stolen from the Dolan home during the past two weeks, have been cashed in Marin for a total of $159.

Two more checks, police reported, were in the possession of James N. Litteral of 9 Taylor Street, San Rafael, when he was arrested Thursday for the $7,000 burglary of a Mill Valley home.

The checks, imprinted with the names of Raymond J. Dolan and Xenia Ellen Dolan, are on the Bank of America branch at 21st and Irving Streets, San Francisco, and are numbered 151 through 200.

Employee Salaries Before Reed Trustees

Non-teaching employees are asking increases totaling $12,200, plus vacation benefits. Teachers will present three proposals, with total increases ranging from $24,600 to $54,000.

Street Paving Foe Gets Council Backing

A prospective homeowner won a battle before the San Rafael City Council last night, but may have lost the war.

Armed with a petition carrying 49 signatures, Stephen P. Reinertsen of 68 Millay Place, Mill Valley, argued against a planning commission requirement that a portion of Williams Street, off Locust Avenue, be paved for a three-lot subdivision.

Paving would destroy the natural beauty of the area and serve no useful purpose, he said. "We found massive opposition to paving of the street," he said

Williams Street is on paper from Mountain View Avenue to Locust Avenue, but only a portion of Mountain View is paved and a creek bisects the unimproved right-of-way.

Councilmen granted the appeal with the proviso that property owners pay their share of any eventual street improvements, including a bridge across the creek.

Reinertsen said he was ready to withdraw his appeal after learning that a bridge would cost more than $25,000.

The council also received a petition with 10 signatures asking the city to check on the keeping of a pony in a yard at 513 B Street.

The accompanying letter from Elsie M. Ware of 14 Taylor Street charged that manure is tossed into a nearby creek. The council referred the petition to the city health officer.

The council passed a revision of the zoning ordinance to clarify what occupations will be permitted as home occupations. The vote was 4-0 because Councilman John A. Miskimen, a former planning commissioner, left the room while the council acted on matters he had already voted upon as a planning commissioner.

The revised ordinance defines a home occupation as an accessory use of a dwelling, conducted entirely within the dwelling unit, carried on by one or more persons, all of whom reside within the dwelling unit, and where no persons are employed other than resident and domestic help. It must be incidental to residental use and must not change the character of the residential district.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

MONTESSORI SCHOOL — Continued until May 15 an appeal by the city traffic committee against planning commission approval for a Marin Montessori School at 1428 Mission Avenue.

HIGHWAY 17 — Agreed to meet with State Division of Highway officials in San Francisco next Tuesday or Wednesday to discuss Highway 17 routing.

LOT SALE — Adopted an ordinance to sell a substandard city-owner lot, created in developing Lisbon Street, to Don R. Presley for $9,500.

CULVER COMMENDED — Passed a resolution commending Edward W. Culver for his service as a member of the board of examiners and appeals.

GAS TAX FUNDS — Approved a state gasoline tax budget for street improvements totaling $126,199, and opposed a bill to lower the state highway apportionment for northern California.

RADIO TOWERS — Authorized City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen to negotiate with Marin Communications Inc. to locate three city antennas on San Rafael hill on the firm's big tower, which would result in removal of three city poles. The firm offered to put city facilities on its tower for $100 a month.

CLAIMS REJECTED — Rejected the claims of Herman Deitch, 980 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, $74.08 for damage to his car Feb. 16, allegedly caused by planter along Fourth Street being too close to curb; Fred N. Troupe, Verona Troupe and Pearl Coffman of 6 Madrona Street, $11,661 for property damage and personal injuries Jan. 20-22 allegedly resulting from inadequate storm drainage; Howard G. and Eva Moler, $10,000 for flood damage on property at 15 Manderly Road, Jan. 21, allegedly caused by overflow from drainage easement, and George E. Campbell, $73.50 for damage from sewer back-up at 24 La Crescenta Way. All claims were referred to the city's insurance carrier.

POPPY SALE — Granted San Anselmo American Legion Auxiliary permission to sell poppies May 26-27.

COMPENSATION FUND — Received a $20,612 dividend check from the State Compensation Fund for the year ending June 30, 1966, the largest dividend earned by the city in the 46 years it has been insured by the state fund. It represented a return of 39 per cent of the premium.

FIRE PROTECTION — Urged that the San Rafael Fire Commission and Terra Linda Community Services District Board schedule a joint session on fire protection in the Terra Linda area.

HOTEL-MOTEL TAX — Agreed to consider a proposal to levy a hotel-motel tax in the city at its May 15 meeting, after Councilman Harry A. Barbier said, "the city should get into it before the state does."

EMPLOYEE REQUESTS — Agreed to meet May 22 with a city employee committee after Councilman Fred E. Jensen said the group is seeking readjustments of salary classifications.

Marincello Planning Criticized

Marin County Planning Commissioners agreed yesterday that planning a community for 20,000 should be coordinated by an architect. They were talking about Marincello.

Commissioner Michael Praszker noted that the architectural firm of Reid and Tarics, hired by Frouge Corp. when the plan was heard by the commission and supervisors, is no longer on the Frouge payroll.

The plan for a mile-long mall, approved recently, was drawn up by Edmund C. Heine Jr., but he was not hired to coordinate the mall with later developments.

Commissioner Claude Stoller wondered if John L. Reid and Alexander Tarics might have been hired as "window dressing." He said he knew of one designer who had written trice to Frouge Corp., trying to get his name removed from the letter head. "This doesn't inspire confidence," Stoller said.

Praszker said he would not have voted for the mall plan had he known there was no coordination.

The commission told Planning Director Paul C. Zucker to draft a query to Frouge Corp. for commission consideration May 15.

San Rafael Resident In Fair Condition

A resident of a San Rafael hotel was admitted last night to Marin General Hospital, suffering from an overdose of sleeping tablets, police said.

Employees of the Lincoln Hotel, 805 Fourth Street, found Thomas J. Lemmons, 27, lying in his room about 10 p.m. He was reported in fair condition today in the hospital.

Lifting Of News Ban Gets Praise

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Defense Department ban on withholding news stories from military publications has won praise from Congress' chief opponent of news management.

Chairman John E. Moss, D-Calif., of the House Foreign Operations and Government Information subcommittee, lauded the policy, calling it "a positive action to help deter the nonsensical military meddling with the free flow of information" to the public and servicemen.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara issued the ban against tampering yesterday, saying "news management and meddling with the news will not be tolerated, either in external information or internal troop information."

Vandals Hit Lights

Vandals broke all the overhead lights at the main entry way to San Rafael High School Sunday, San Rafael police said yesterday. The vandalism, causing an estimated $300 damage, was reported by Principal Alan Ellsberg.

THE PENNEY STORY

"One eye on quality; one on price"

By ROBERTA NASH

More often than not, in a store's newspaper advertising, the emphasis is on the price of merchandise, for this is the news that readers want to know.

But the Penney people want to be sure you understand that this emphasis on price in advertising does not represent the thinking within the Penney organization. The thing that makes Penney wheels go round is value, or what you get for that low price.

"We have to keep one eye on quality and the other on price," one of our buyers said to me. "Every sale we make today is designed to bring the customer back tomorrow."

Tam District Parries 'Ed Center' Questions

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

"Educational center" sounded like "administrative building" to many questioners at Tamalpais High School District Board's "public information night" last night.

Repeated questions, both submitted in advance and raised from the floor, were directed at Supt. Chester G. Carlisle's proposal for what he now calls an "educational center" to house administrative facilities for the district.

NOT EITHER/OR

Carlisle and board members insisted it is not a case of "either/or" between that building and more classrooms. But when Vaughn Marker, Larkspur city councilman asked, "Can the same funds be used for either the administration building or classrooms at Drake?" Trustee John C. Siemens replied, "Yes."

There did not seem to be unanimity of administration and board on the subject of the administrative center.

Trustee Gloria Melbostad said the center "is just a concept at this moment," whereas both San Geronimo and Tiburon high schools are already on the drawing boards.

However, Carlisle put in: "This center is more than a concept. We think it's necessary."

UP TO COMMITTEE

As to how near the district's fourth and fifth high schools may be, trustees said that is largely up to a recently appointed citizen advisory committee. But Mrs. Melbostad expressed hope a bond issue to finance them can be put to a vote in October.

The building program — with its offshoots of crowding and staggered classes at Redwood and Drake high schools — drew a major share of questions from the nearly 100 who attended the district's first such "information night" in the Redwood High little theater. There was also much complaint about inadequate transportation for Tiburon Peninsula students, who must pay 55 cents a day to ride a Greyhound bus that often doesn't get them to school on time.

SAMPLE QUERIES

Other questions ranged widely. Some samples:

What can parents do to get rid of a teacher?

Answer by James A. Fitzgerald, director of personnel: The parent would have to file a written complaint with the board. State law specifies causes for which a teacher can be fired, he noted.

Why is so much class time given to expounding the teacher's political views, with students forbidden to disagree?

Answer by Asst. Supt. Robert D. Torrey: "The teacher is not there to expound his views." He is not supposed to do this.

How about flexible scheduling?

Mrs. Melbostad said the board "is very much interested in all these new concepts," Trustee Bette Wallace reported she visited a high school in Oregon last week where flexible scheduling is in use, and "I really think there is a very great deal more that we can do."

NO DEMAND

How about teaching economics in the high schools?

Answer by Arthur A. Chapman, social science teacher: Classes have been offered "but we can't get the demand."

Is enough information on the dangers of drugs, tobacco and veneral disease given the students?

Answer by Principal Robert H. Prather of Tamalpais High School: "I guess, no. . . We have done as required by state law. . . We do not have one course with this function alone."

Superintendent Carlisle mentioned the county grand jury report calling for county-wide enforcement and education organization, and said he had pledged the Tamalpais district to cooperate fully in it.

USE OF TOBACCO

What is the policy on student use of tobacco on campus?

Answer by Principal Harold Allison of Drake High School: It is against the law, and grounds for suspension. Many students are suspended for the offfense.

This brought a rejoinder from a woman in the audience: "How do you have any children in school then, when 90 per cent of them are out there smoking in the parking lot?"

What are the schools' attitudes toward dress for girls, and long hair for boys?

Principal Prather commented: "Girls' attire is a problem . . . I don't know if it would be fair to ask the ladies in the audience to stand up on the stage. . . I used to worry about this quite a lot until at some of the P-TA meetings I just kind of gave up."

Principal Donald Kreps of Redwood High School added, "The mode of dress originates in the home, not in the school."

Only about half the more than 70 questions on the written list — plus at least as many from the floor — were handled by the time chairman William D. Lewis adjourned the session at 10:30 p.m., declaring no meeting should run any later.

Trustee Siemens urged that those attending send postcards or letters to the superintendent saying whether they thought more such sessions would be useful.

Property Appraisal Chief Is Appointed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Board of Equalization announced yesterday the appointment of Ken Garcia, 40, of Sacramento as head of a new property appraisal appeal board.

Garcia, a former assistant Fresno County assessor, will get $16,600 a year. He will direct an eight-member appeals unit to hear disputes arising from different appraisal levels in the various counties.

U. S. Grand Jury Names Marinites

Six Marin residents were named yesterday to the summer federal grand jury in U.S. District Court in San Francisco.

They are:

W. Frank Jones, diesel company vice president of 211 Canal Street, San Rafael; Dorothy A. Jorgensen, secretary of 12 Carroll Street, San Rafael; John A. Ostrom, civil engineer of 11 Bay View Avenue, Belvedere; Mary T. Pritchard, housewife of 18 Heather Way, Mill Valley; Paul A. Rupert, designer of 6 Seadrift Landing, Tiburon, and Eva E. Welch, housewife of 49 Cole Drive, Marin City.

Willard Robertson, Millbrae public accountant, was named jury foreman.

Emergency Parking Policy Is On Agenda

A request by Police Chief Edward S. Kreins for no-parking zones on Glen Court to provide for emergency vehicles will be considered by Sausalito City Council today at 8 p.m. in city hall. Also on the agenda is a proposed fire escape for the library.

Pickpocket Lifts $300 And Clip

A pickpocket snatched $300 and a money clip valued at $70 Sunday afternoon from Coulter McKeever, 70, of 53 Moncado Way, San Rafael.

The thief snatched the roll from McKeever's trousers pocket as McKeever walked along Third Street. He did not run after the crime, but walked briskly away as McKeever followed at a jog, then got into a car and escaped.

The money clip was made of an 1869 $20 gold piece.

Postmaster Heads Clean-Up Project

John T. Little, Mill Valley postmaster, yesterday was named coordinator of the city's proposed paint-up, clean-up of commercial districts.

Little replaced Samuel W. Schneider, who served as temporary chairman after the resignation April 17 of Connie and Palmer Field, color consultants for the proposed project.

Schneider yesterday was to present plans to carry on the project to chamber of commerce directors, but details will not be ready "for a few days," he said.

The Naval Force, created a year ago, has about 25,000 men. Their activity includes coastal patrol work, river assault operations, support for ground forces and Seabee construction.

Healy Heading Democratic Clubs

Michael Dunne Healy of San Geronimo has been re-elected chairman of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs.

Healy announced that other officers for 1967 are Fritz Dunnbier of Mill Valley, vice chairman, and Lotte Schiller of Mill Valley, secretary.

The Marin Council unanimously supported the California Democratic Council's announced intention to call a convention in September to pick a peace slate for the Democratic National Convention, if the Vietnam war is not ended by then.

Mill Valley Ponders Free Saturday Parking

Mill Valley City Council last night voted to suspend parking meter regulations on Saturdays in a three-month experiment sought by the Chamber of Commerce.

The time necessary to amend parking regulations, however, means the suspension cannot be effective until July 8 at the earliest. The chamber asked the suspension to attract more customers to downtown stores.

To prevent all-day parking during the experiment, police will mark tires for a two-hour limit.

The experiment will cost the city $500 in meter revenue, said City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer. Present revenue does not quite cover the cost of paying a meter enforcement officer and retiring bonds which financed purchase of parking lots behind City Hall and the bus depot, he said.

The officer, said Manuel Gomez, should be paid from the general fund, not from meter revenue, because all revenue from parking tickets goes into the general fund. The bonds will be retired in four years.

The Chamber of Commerce was asked to work out details of the experiment, including how to cover meters and notify parkers of the two-hour limit on Saturdays.

Guest For TV Show

Dr. Robert Haskell of Sausalito will be guest on "Potpourri" on television KPIX (Channel 5) Sunday at 10:30 a.m. to discuss the overweight problem.

$100,000 Asked From Wreck

A San Mateo woman, injured in a two-car collision May 8, 1966, in San Rafael, has filed a $100,000 damage suit in Marin Superior Court.

Mrs. Jeanetta B. Glor, 37, alleges negligent driving by Paul A. Lawlor, 174 Ridgewood Drive, San Rafael, caused the accident at Irwin and Third streets, resulting in neck injuries to her.

Mrs. Glor was passenger in a car driven by her husband, Donald W. Glor. Lawlor was accompanied in his car by his wife, Frances Lawlor, named as co-defendant.

Burning Of Debris Being Urged Now

Although we have had wet and cold weather so far, the fire season will start in about two weeks, and residents should get debris burned now, according to Novato Fire Chief George Cavallero.

"We usually put the ban on open burning on May 15," the chief said. The grass could very easily dry out enough to burn in the next two weeks, he warned.

Mill Valley Council Defers On Poverty House Leasing

Mill Valley City Council last night deferred to May 15 a resolution authorizing Marin County Housing Authority to lease private housing in the city, but a majority favored approval.

The resolution would permit the authority to lease housing for low-income and elderly persons, with federal rent subsidies.

First priority for units leased in the city, said Housing Authority Commissioner George C. Goheen, would be for the 288 Mill Valley families receiving welfare assistance. Second priority would be for low-income and elderly persons already residing in the city, but not receiving public assistance. Third priority would be for low-income and elderly persons residing in the county outside the city.

The initial program in Mill Valley would be for 30 to 60 families, he estimated.

The leased housing program, said councilman Rodric L. Robinson, "eliminates the necessity for public housing, which many people abhor."

Urging that action be deferred, councilman George E. Wickham said, "I've had quite a few calls, and all of them, let it be known, have been against it."

Low-income persons "chose to live in Mill Valley," said Louis E. Bartolini, candidate in the last year's council election. "We did not force them to live here."

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

GARBAGE — Adopted an ordinance setting a garbage collection rate of $2 a month for can, retroactive to April 1. A carrying charge of 25 cents for each 50 feet beyond the first 50 feet garbage men must walk to reach a can will not be levied this quarter, City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said, pending survey of how the charge would affect customers' bills.

BUDGET — Set hearings on the budget for fiscal 1968 for May 16, 17 and 18 from 7 to 9 p.m. in city hall.

BLITHEDALE PROJECT — Authorized purchase for $5,723 of pieces of seven parcels to widen East Blithedale Avenue.

STREAMLINED ZONING — Gave first reading to an ordinance amending planned residential district regulations by eliminating about one-third of the present ordinance.

UNDERGROUND UTILITIES — Set for June 5 public hearing on extending the underground utilities district from Miller Avenue and Lytton Square to include the East Blithedale widening project.

MIDDLE SCHOOL — Tentatively set a meeting May 24 with school district trustees to discuss progress on plans for a joint "middle school" and recreation facility in the Project 17 area.

SEWER BOND — Confirmed canvass of the vote in the $500,000 sewer bond election April 18, with 1,924 yes, and 605 no, or 76 per cent favorable vote.

DEER — Heard that Balmer has asked the state Department of Fish and Game what can be done about controlling deer in the city. Residents complain deer ravage their gardens.

BLITHEDALE PARK — Deferred to May 15 award of a contract for public improvements in the 22-lot Blithedale Park Subdivision between Manzanita Place and West Blithedale Avenue. Maggiora and Ghilotti Inc., Corte Madera, was low bidder at $149,141, but delay was recommended by City Atty. Leland H. Jordan, pending receipt of bonds for the subdivision.

Shelley Says He's In Race For Mayor Again

The former congressman, a Democrat who succeeded Republican George Christopher to the nonpartisan post, will be challenged for the job by State Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, also a Democrat, in the Nov. 7 election. Shelley is the first Democrat to be mayor in more than 50 years.

In his announcement, Shelley said the program he backs for the next four years includes: "The finest rapid transit system in the world. A renewed and beautiful Market Street. An enlarged and better Candlestick Park. An expanded, better airport, befitting San Francisco. A Butchertown Industrial Park, providing more needed jobs."

Fluoridated Water Best, Finch Claims

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch is strongly in favor of fluoridated water, although he declines to give a Reagan Administration endorsement to legislation that would require fluoridation of all water used domestically in the state.

Speaking to the American Dental Association yesterday, Finch said dentists "must take action at the state level on fluoridation or the federal government will take it over."

Today is Tuesday, May 2, the 122nd day of 1967 with 243 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

Born on this day in 1904 was American singer-actor Bing Crosby.

On this day in history:

In 1933, Adolf Hitler abolished labor unions throughout Germany and set up a so-called "labor front" to control all workers.

In 1945, the allies announced the unconditional surrender of Nazi troops in Italy and southern and western Austria.

In 1960, Caryl Chessman, who had won eight stays of execution after a 1958 conviction of robbery, kidnaping and rape, died in the San Quentin gas chamber.

A thought for the day—Greek lyric poet Pindar once said: "Longer than deeds liveth the words."

Woman Allowed To Play, Upset Regular Saturday Operation

We don't usually allow women to play in our Saturday afternoon game, but one day two of our regulars had script conferences and a third was busy mounting the production of "Man of La Mancha" at the new Ahmanson Theater in Los Angeles.

"You can bring your wife," we told Vincent Fotre Jr., "but tell her she has to live up to the traditions of our game."

I played today's hand in the first rubber against the Fotres and was quite disappointed to find two worthless red jacks in the North hand.

I'd have swapped them very happily for the queen of clubs or even for the jack of clubs.

CAN'T BARTER

Since the tradition of our game doesn't include bartering two jacks for a queen, I had to play the hand as it was.

I took the ace of hearts at the first trick, drew a round of trumps, cashed the top diamonds, got to dummy with a trump and ruffed dummy's last diamond . . .

Then I gave up a heart and waited for Mrs. Fotre to find her way out of the trap.

TRADITIONAL PLAY

In the tradition of our game, I blush to confess, West would return a low club.

I would play the eight from dummy, and East would have to play the jack to force out the king.

Later I would win a finesse with the 10 of clubs, making my slam.

Mrs. Fotre broke with this tradition by making the expert return.

She led the queen of clubs.

Now the slam was down the drain.

If I won in my own hand I would eventually lose a club to East's jack.

If I won in dummy and returned a low club, East could play low; and if I led the 10 of clubs from dummy, East could cover with the jack. Either way the defenders were sure to get the setting trick in clubs.

"You'll have to forgive Lonny," her husband apologized. "I've told her the kind of game we play here, but she prefers bridge."

A MAKE-BELIEVE gambling casino will be the setting for the Sausalito Nursery School's "Rags to Riches" annual fund-raising party on Saturday at the Town and Country Billiards in Sausalito. In costumes—not necessary but which party chairmen believe will add to the fun—several committee members try their luck at some of the games that will offer prizes instead of money for winners. Crewing On A Glamor Yacht

By BETTY FROST

Time was when adventures at sea were only for the boys. Disproving this old-fashioned notion is Margaret Rumsey of Belvedere, who has just returned from a three-month voyage in the West Indies. Margaret crewed aboard the Ticonderoga, 73-foot glamor yacht, which sails in ocean races all over the world.

A message from the Ticonderoga's skipper, Bob Johnson of Freeport in the Grand Bahamas, to the local girl sent her off on the biggest adventure of her life. She joined the "Ti's" crew of 10, including Belvedere man John Brunsing, on the island of Grenada in January and just arrived home in Belvedere.

Margaret, 24, was ship's cook and also took a turn at the helm and helped with sail setting. The Ticonderoga had arrived in the West Indies returning from Copenhagen after last summer's Transatlantic yacht race. Margaret's brother, John Rumsey, had sailed on the "Ti" in the Transatlantic race. He is now back in San Diego, where he is a sailmaker with Lowell North.

THE BELVEDERE GIRL jumped at the "once in a lifetime" chance to cruise on the big beauty even though it meant giving up her job as salesgirl in a Northgate store.

Raised in Belvedere, she is the daughter of John L. Rumsey and the late Mrs. Rumsey, and the sister of John N. Gerald Rumsey of Belvedere and Mrs. Persis Rumsey Newman of Belvedere. A graduate of Redwood High School and the College of Marin, she attended San Jose State College. She has been sailing since early childhood and is a regular crew member of the family's bird boat, the Oriole, which has won several bay season's championships.

Margaret went by air from San Francisco to Miami, then flew on a 12-hour island-hopping jaunt with a stopover in the Barbados, before joining the yacht at Grenada.

From Grenada they cruised to Trinidad, arriving in time for the Mardi Gras festival. They returned to Grenada, which she describes as "a kind of cross roads." They then went on to St. Lucia, St. Thomas, Freeport and Miami.

THE ISLAND of Grenada she found delightful with its lush tropic growth. There they met the Allan Loefflers, former Belvedere residents who are now living on the island, where Mr. Loeffler has a charter yacht service.

Cooking for 10 hungry sailors hardly sounds like a vacation, but Margaret took it all in stride.

"The Ticonderoga," she said, "has a great galley, and everything is electric."

Besides the stocks of canned goods and staples "which seemed to disappear like magic," she learned to enjoy the fresh-caught raw mahi mahi fish prepared with lemon juice, and reveled in the fresh bananas, grapefruit, coconut and breadfruit which are plentiful in the West Indies. She was still carrying a nutmeg kernel which she had picked from a tree.

"The spice adds a wonderful flavor when grated fresh," she explained. They bought provisions at Grenada where milk was sold in plastic bags and sugar in paper bags.

For the Belvedere girl, taking place in the Miami-Nassau race was a highlight of the trip. In Miami she had a brief reunion with her older brother, John, who made the race on another yacht. Margaret got some satisfaction out of knowing she had her own berth.

WHEN THE Ticonderoga returned to Miami, Margaret disembarked, but there was still an adventurous trip home. Suzy Mitchell of Belvedere flew out to join her friend and the two girls drove a car belonging to Skipper Johnson's family to Mrs. Johnson in Portland, Ore. They stopped in Texas to see John Drechsel, formerly of Belvedere, and other friends along the way.

With the wonderful voyage in the past, Margaret is trying to conquer a bad case of travel fever and get back to the real-life situation of hunting for a new job.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Taking The Brother-Sister Routine Too Literally Causes Distresses

DEAR HELEN:

Is there any hope for a guy who thinks "parking" is wrong?

I dated this girl for almost a year. We're both in college. At the start, she told me she thought heavy necking and petting were immoral, and so I ignored her in this respect. Knowing all the emphasis placed on sex these days, I was glad she felt this way, and satisfied myself with a casual goodnight kiss at the door.

Now she tells me we should date others because we're like brother and sister. Can a guy ever win with women? — NUTS TO BROTHERHOOD

DEAR NUTS:

. . . Only by saying "Nuts to Brotherhood" — to her, not me. You shouldn't have taken her quite so literally, chum. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I tell you, they don't make brothers like they used to. Mine is 13. He wants to be just like his stupid friends, who buy all the Mod clothes. They're really way-out. He earns his own money by shoveling snow and gardening, and so he thinks because it's his, he should buy the clothes he pleases. He tells lies sometimes, too.

When my dad gets tough, my mother feels sorry for him. Should I side with my father and tell him that these wild styles make him look ridiculous? — CAMPAIGNER FOR GOOD BROTHERS

DEAR CAMPAIGNER:

I'm sure you already have, unless you're a lot more tactful than the average sister.

But don't go overboard on taking sides — you'll make your brother more stubborn and discipline harder.

Besides, a 13-year-old boy who earns all his own clothes money can't be all bad . . . and the way-out Mod fad for boys has just about had it anyway. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm 17, a senior. I've gone steady with Kathy since September. I spent all last year trying to win her and I feel I am very lucky as she's a cheerleader and popular.

But the trouble is Kathy's parents are very modern and she has no deadlines, whereas my folks are strict and I am always in hot water.

Normally, steadies in our school go out Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights and Sunday afternoons, and they also go to the sweet shop after school. My folks won't let me out on Wednesday night as my grades aren't too high. I can only be out till midnight on weekends. If I'm late, I get grounded.

Kathy gets mad when I have to break a date, so I sneaked out one Saturday so as not to disappoint her. My Dad was furious. I was defiant. . . . and I got my hide tanned: the first spanking I'd had since I was 13. Further grounding made me miss a big dance, and Kathy went with another guy.

She gets mad if I get held up at school and can't go to the sweet shop. Instead of waiting, she goes anyway I got grounded one day last week and Kathy said I should stand up to my father as his curfew was much too strict. I made the mistake of telling her what happened last time, and she called me "immature."

I think I am losing her. I heard she's going out with another guy, though we're still going steady. I still like her, but I don't want to be constantly in the doghouse for being late, and I can't get home on time if I'm with Kathy. Can I help it if my folks are so strict? — MISERABLE

DEAR M:

You can't change parents by rebellion (and, really, they aren't all that strict — just sensible), but you might consider changing girlfriends. Maybe I'm wrong, but from here it appears she has too little give, too much take, and a great lack of understanding. Could be she's spoiled by popularity. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

It took me five weeks but I've finally accepted the fact that I lost the only girl I really loved. I haven't dated anyone since, but recently I find myself attracted to a girl I hardly know. I only see her occasionally at church, from a distance. Our only mutual friend is my old flame, and I doubt that she would introduce us. We all graduated from the same college; now I am away attending graduate school and only come home on weekends. So you can see my time is limited. Would it be proper for me to send her notes signed "A secret admirer," as a means of starting friendship? — NUT AT A NON-COED SCHOOL

DEAR NUT:

The "secret admirer" route is kid stuff. If you can't strike up a conversation with this girl at church, then the least you can do is write her a signed letter telling her you'd like to. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Average Housewife Tags Along On A Hollywood Press Junket

By FRANCES DAVIS

What happens when an average San Rafael housewife is invited to go along on a Hollywood press junket that involves flying to Canada and coming back down the coast on an ocean liner?

Flustered housewife pinches self twice and accepts with the speed of sound. Husband and neighbors will cope with four children for 48 hours.

Traveling companions are to be movie stars and reporters from West Coast and European newspapers.

The purpose of the trip is to have the premiere showing of a new 20th Century-Fox movie, "A Guide For The Married Man," at sea.

Four days later with United Air Lines special handling tag on our best luggage, we fly to Vancouver not quite believing it is all really happening.

We touch down briefly in Seattle to pick up the Hollywood group including Inger Stevens ("The Farmer's Daughter"), Robert Morse ("How To Succeed In Business Without Really Trying") and up-and-coming actress Sue Ane Langdon.

By evening pastel colored streamers are crisscrossed from the decks of P and O Lines' Canberra to shore where a blue uniformed band plays and the crowd waves goodbye.

Our suitcase has magically appeared in our own first class stateroom with pirvate bath, a view of the sea, and one corner of lifeboat number nine.

We really lose our cool when we find invitations to cocktail parties, a special tour of the ship, and a second sitting dining card for the surgeon's table. Quite a change from the smudged messages from school we have become accustomed to.

Who at home has a handsome black haired steward to turn down one's bed, bring hot coffee on a tray in the morning and call one "luv"?

A press conference is held in the Crystal Room. Here petite, blonde Inger Stevens wears red tights and a deep blue handwoven tunic just long enough to keep off a draught. She perches with the grace of a pretty blue-eyed Peter Pan on a black and silver table while cameras click and reporters question.

For the premiere that night she wears a golden mini-toga similar to the silver one which wowed the Academy Award audience. Miss Langdon wears an ankle length silver gown with deep V neck and a multicolored hairpiece added to her bright blonde hair.

Suddenly it is 6 a.m. and we are passing the shores of Marin County and steaming under the Golden Gate bridge.

We are home. Life hasn't been quite the same since.

Bolinas Lagoon Study Confusing To Planners

Bolinas Lagoon is under study, but Marin County Planning Commissioners yesterday had some difficulty finding out who was studying what and why.

Adm. H. E. Bramston-Cook (ret.) of the Marin Conservation League said there was a lack of coordination between the county planning staff and Bolinas Harbor District.

After hearing the harbor district's plan for a marina development in the lagoon, the commission agreed some months ago that there should be several studies, including the effect of the plan on siltation, fish and bird life, shore currents and topography.

Norman T. Gilroy, hired by the district to prepare the plan, said yesterday he had authorized a U.S. coast and geodetic study on siltation to avoid the loss of a $3,300 federal allocation for tide gates on creeks running into the lagoon.

Albert Solnit of the county planning staff said he did not know about that. Gilroy said he acted without consulting the county because he could not delay the application.

Commissioner Michael Praszker kept asking the purposes on the various studies. "You know, you can study whether or not Caesar were flat-footed, but I'd consider that academic," he said.

Both Gilroy and Solnit said things should be better defined after a joint harbor district-commission subcommittee meeting at the Civic Center at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow.

The commission voted 4-2, with Commissioners Niels Schultz Jr. and Eugene R. Trombley dissenting, to recommend county purchase of 11 acres on the north shore of the lagoon where Muskrat Corp. has proposed an 11-unit housing development.

Architect John Campbell, for Muskrat Corp., argued that the land would cost the county $50,000 to $100,000 and that his plan for development would leave much of the shoreline open.

Commissioner Claude Stoller called this "a bird in the hand," but nevertheless joined in voting for county purchase.

Auto Is Recovered

Marin County sheriff's deputies Sunday recovered in Marin City a car reported stolen Saturday from Harold R. Lamb, 412 D Street, San Rafael.

Tam Valley Zoning Ideas Struck Down By Planners

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday stuck on some of the zoning changes asked by county supervisors around the intersection of Pinehill Road and Shoreline Highway in Tamalpais Valley.

The commission agreed to hold out for multiple zoning with a unit for every 2,500 square feet rather than one for every 2,000 square feet at Pinehill and Woodside Avenue, and for single-family zone on two lots on the highway opposite Maple Street, where supervisors recommended 2,000-square-feet-per-unit multiple.

However, the commission accepted the suggestion for commercial zoning on the southeast corner of Pine Street and Shoreline Highway, making two full blocks of commercial on the south side of the state highway.

By a 6-1 vote, with commissioner Claude Stoller dissenting, the commission agreed to keep the one lot on the east side of Maple Street in the study area, until June 5, with an eye toward zoning it for four units. Supervisors had recommended against this limitation after learning that owner Robert Middagh had already received commission approval for a six-unit studio apartment development.

"We think this is a very dangerous precedent," County Planner Werner Von Gundell said of the supervisors' action.

"It's asking for trouble," commissioner Stoller said.

Commissioners noted, however, that by June 5 Middagh may have already started construction under his permit.

Mike, Speakers Stolen

A microphone and two loudspeakers valued at a total of $105 were stolen from Vallecito School band room a week ago, San Rafael police reported yesterday. The theft was reported to police Friday by Principal Earl M. Thomason.

Marijuana Jury Trial Scheduled

Jury trial of Michel Ouellette, 19, charged with marijuana possession in Inverness Mesa, was scheduled yesterday in Marin Superior Court for the week of May 22.

Ouellette, of Canada, and Joel Morton Isaacson, 24, of Berkeley, were charged with possession following sheriff's officers' raid March 9 which found 19 young persons in a single house. Isaacson is scheduled for jury trial the week of July 24. Eleven others have been certified to juvenile court, and six are scheduled for jury trial June 19 in Marin Municipal Court on charges of being present where marijuana was being used.

Ghost Image Pattern Stalls Community Cable TV Plan

A ghost story caused Belvedere City Council last night to agree to take a second look at television — or rather, at an antenna site for a community cable TV system.

Last month, the council awarded a 20-year franchise for the system to Cable Television of Marin, over the rival application of Clear View Cable Systems, Inc.

Appealing the decision last night, Reuben A. Isberg, electrical engineer for Clearview, said he saw "ghosts" on a test at Cable TV's antennae site atop the Belvedere-Tiburon Laundry. He told councilmen that Clearview proposed to erect a 600-foot tower on the Corte Madera ridge to boost its signal to Belvedere. He invited councilmen to visit the site and watch a test there.

Mayor John S. Moore and Councilman Thomas R. Price, the council's television committee, said they were satisfied with the Cable TV site. But on urging, they agreed to a second look at both.

Mayor Moore was re-elected unanimously for another year in the council's top office. Councilman Edwin J. Drechsel nominated Sally Mathews for vice-mayor, but she declined and nominated councilman Price for re-election, who was then elected unanimously.

On request of Mrs. Betty Frost, co-chairman of the Belvedere-to-Belvidere campaign to aid victims of the tornado disaster in Belvidere, Ill., the council to set aside this week in honor of the drive.

Charley Townsend, lighting engineer for Pacific Gas and Electric Co., presented a program to replace old street lights which he said would save the city $243.12 a year in the major portion of Belvedere.

Moore told him some residents didn't even want street lights. The council accepted Townsend's report, however, and directed him to make a master plan for gradual replacement of the old lights.

The Belvedere City Council also:

SLIDE — Heard from City Mgr. William S. Cavalli that repairs on the Beach Road slide will wait for a few more days of dry weather.

DREDGING — Approved an annual dredging project by the Belvedere Lagoon Sailing Society and told the society it could put mud from the lagoon on the lagoon road park property, owned by the state, until it is dry enough to haul away.

SEWAGE BILL — Asked Tiburon Sanitary District for more information on a bill to the city for $5,437.50 for improvements to the sanitary plant.

LANES — Considered two requests to abandon unused walking lanes on Corinthian Island; referred to City Atty. William Mackay the question of title to a lane from Beach Road to the beach before granting abandonment request to Steve Manning Jr. of 296 Beach Road; turned over to the planning commission research on a five-foot strip on James B. Atkin's property at 38 Alcatraz Avenue which is partly in Belvedere and partly in Tiburon.

COUNTY SERVICES — In an effort to "get rid of county taxes," voted to support the position of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen for a police district to serve unincorporated areas.

DRAINAGE — Heard that Northwestern Pacific Railroad has hired an engineer to study drainage problems on the railroad yard, including a non-tidal canal proposed by Tiburon.

During World War II, the Presidio of San Francisco served as the Headquarters for the Fourth U.S. Army and the Western Defense Command under Lt. Gen. John R. DeWitt.

Alleged Burglary Hearing Is Held

Frank Stanley Perkins, 22, was arraigned in Marin Superior Court yesterday on an old arrest warrant in an alleged burglary May 9, 1965.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson released Perkins without bail to appear again at 9:30 a.m. Monday. The San Francisco youth has been serving California Youth Authority time for a San Francisco burglary, according to Larkspur police. He is accused of breaking into Dexter's TV, 25 Ward Avenue, Larkspur.

The arrest warrant was issued in Marin Municipal Court Aug. 9, 1965, after Perkins failed to appear to enter plea.

Chance To Participate In Mental Care Seminar

Despite rapid advances in medical and psychiatric care and facilities for the mentally disturbed, the number of mental breakdowns continues to rise.

What are some of the pressures that lead to mental breakdowns, and how can society meet the growing problem?

These questions will be discussed at a mental health seminar for the public which will be held Friday night at Alexander Hall, San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Fourteen topics are set for group discussion, with a leader and a resource person in each group to lead the discussion. Leaders include medical men and professionals in mental health and social services.

Techniques in treating mental problems have advanced rapidly in the past few years, as have the various branches of medicine and science. But it is doubtful that the general public is as completely aware of the advances in the care and treatment of mental patients as they are of the spectacular achievements in space, nuclear physics and the more dramatic breakthroughs in the treatment of physical diseases.

The Friday seminar is particularly valuable in giving the lay public a chance to become better informed on the less spectacular but equally important field of mental care.

Unfortunately, the Friday sessions are designated a "teach-in" on mental health in Marin. The use of the term "teach-in" may well discourage the participation of some who might otherwise attend. This would be most regrettable.

We sincerely hope that those who attach unfavorable connotations to the word "teach-in" will put their reservations aside and take part in this worthy effort by the Marin Association for Mental Health.

The selection of Friday for the meeting is also something of an innovation. Most seminars involving public participation have been held on Saturdays, presumably for the convenience of those who cannot get off during the work week. However, experience has shown that many people do not want to give up their Saturdays for such seminars.

This is an experiment to see if a Friday night will bring better public participation. We hope that the choice proves to be a profitable one.

The San Rafael Mockingbird

It is normal for people to brag about the talents of their neighborhood Mockingbird. Just as it is normal for fishermen to brag about the one that got away.

But an otherwise restrained friend tells us that he has a Mockingbird in his Bret Harte neighborhood that sounds like feeding time at an aviary, or an integrated bird vocal contest.

According to this fellow, his Mockingbird does a great Jay. Doubtless all the lady Jays blush and the gentleman Jays become angry.

MODERN PRESSURE BAD FOR THE HEART

Heart trouble has been called "a disease of European-American civilization" by Dr. Manuel J. Rowen, author of the book, "This Is Your Heart."

During an interview, he said: "No other civilization affects its component individuals with such constant pressures and demands, where success and failure are stressed so much, and where there is so little tranquility."

Research, he claims, has indicated this constant strain inevitably harms the heart.

"Success and failure are equated in the working world by take-home pay, total worth, and other status symbols," he continued. The people most likely to develop heart trouble are characterized by "extreme competitiveness, excessive drive, and an enhanced sense of time urgency."

It is impossible to avoid entirely the increasing pressures of the modern world. But you can rise above most of them if you maintain a steady trust in divine providence and your value in God's sight.

"Cast all your anxienty upon Him, for He cares about you." (1 Peter 5:7)

Teach me, Holy Spirit, to be detached from the passing allurements of this life.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Legislative Scrutiny Is Long Overdue For County Fair Funds

By HENRY C. MACARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — At long last, the state legislature is giving consideration to wiping out one of the biggest and most expensive boon-doggles known to California taxpayers.

Under a bill by Assemblyman Harvey Johnson, D-El Monte, which has been approved by the Assembly Government Organization Committee, and now is before the Ways and Means Committee, district and county fairs would be put under legislative scrutiny.

The measure abolishes the fair and exposition fund, financed from horse racing revenue, and calls for submission of county and district fair budgets on the same basis as any other state department.

At the present time, each of the state's 75 district and county fairs receive up to $65,000 annually, free from budget control, at least by the legislature.

THIS ENABLES the 75 fairs to belong to the Western Fairs Association, which is a private organization, and pay up to $3,000 annually in dues with taxpayers' money. The association also receives some major support from some of the state's larger race-tracks, up to $40,000 a year.

For these significant contributions, the Western Fairs Association maintains a relatively high-powered lobby in Sacramento, the purpose of which is to see that the taxpayer contributions to this state subsidized form of entertainment for Californians continue.

With presentation of Assemblyman Johnson's bill AB 1164, to the committee, loud wails of protest came from directors of the district and county fairs, most of who belong to the association. They claimed "life or death" of the fairs depended on the measre.

IN EFFECT, what the measure does is nothing but expose the neat little financial arrangement to the scrutiny of the legislature and the people who pay the bills.

It long has been a question as to why the taxpayers of the entire state should subsidize local fairs, or why any subsidy at all is necessary, the theory being that if a fair can't stay in the black after all the money it has received from the state and the capital investments provided from state funds, it isn't worth the price of the show.

The Johnson measure does not call for elimination of fairs. He says it is not his purpose to abolish the fairs, but that he feels it is only good busines to eliminate special funds.

WHETHER THE JOHNSON bill has any chance of becoming law or not is a good guess at the present time. Previous attempts to put fairs on more of a business basis have met with failure, due to the reluctance of legislators to challenge their district consitituents, and eliminate the boon-doggle.

However, there appears to be a new attitude with regard to almost all state financing which involves tax money. The happy days of tapping the till to support useless and nonessential state services are just about over, for the simple reason that the till is empty.

Passage of the Johnson bill thus would be one more step in the process of restoring sound financing to state government. It also would be a step in convincing the public that the state has no obligation to subsidize entertainment at taxpayer expense.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

ON AN INSPECTION tour to Vietnam, a top Army officer resented the presence of a very shy, puny civilian on his committee. He had been instructed particularly to give this civilian all the advance briefing he possibly could, so, trying unsuccessfully to hide his distaste, he handed the civilian a book outlining the whole history and culture of Vietnam, and suggested, "Begin reading this now, and with a lot of luck, you just may digest it in six months." "That's possible," said the little man calmly. "It only took me two months to write it."

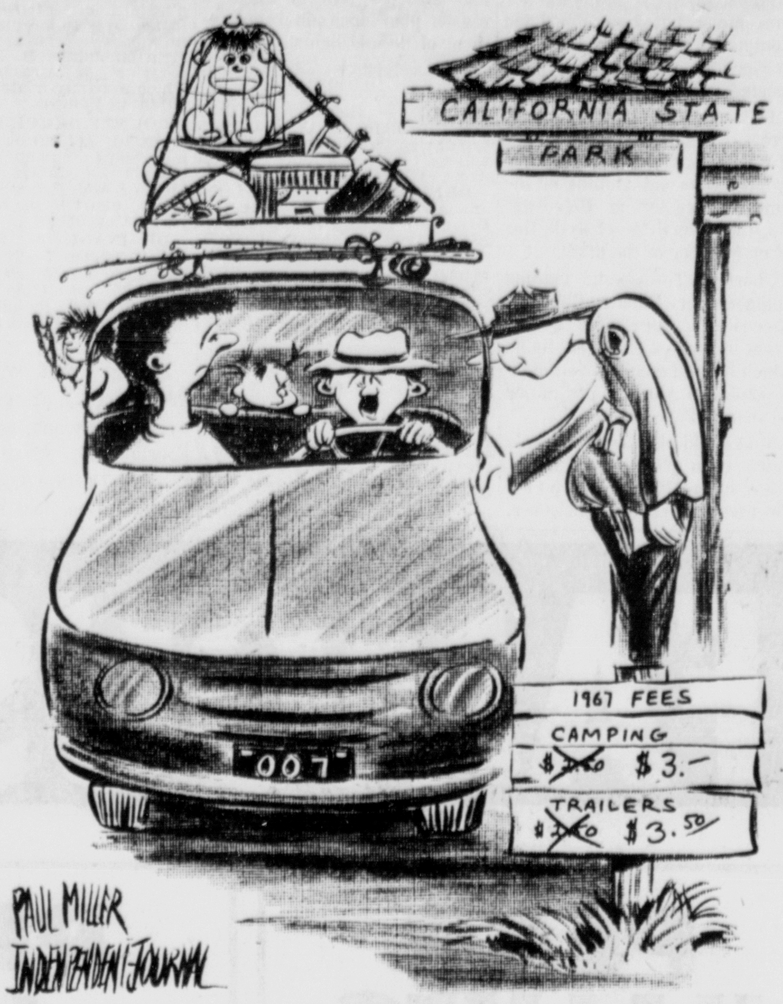
PRESIDENTS ON THE PRESIDENCY:

WOODROW WILSON: "The office of President requires the constitution of an athlete, the patience of a mother, and the endurance of an early Christian."

WARREN HARDING: "Often I don't seem able to grasp the fact that I am actually President."

HERBERT HOOVER: "Many years ago I concluded that a few hair shirts were part of the mental wardrobe of every man. The President differs from other men in that he has a more extensive wardrobe."

DWIGHT EISENHOWER: "Sometimes I speak longer than the time allotted to me — but there's one thing about being the President: it's hard to make him sit down!"



"Our taxes buy the land, operate the place . . . And then we pay again to use it . . . Wish I could sell cars on those terms!"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Answer To Wrath Of Two Ladies

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is awe-inspiring to have aroused the wrath of two ladies in wealthy neighborhoods (I-J, April 26) — and both at the same time!

What Helen MacMillan of Tiburon calls "naive" is precisely my objection to a form of government she calls "responsible" and I call authoritarian and reactionary. We disagree, but I am grateful that she got my sex right.

Mrs. Alice Booth of Ross seems to think Reagan got 75 per cent oft he vote: he got a million more votes than Brown and he will discover that it was not a mandate. In 120 days in office he has managed to alienate the entire educational establishment, most of the people concerned with social and mental welfare and a good proportion of the taxpayers.

On that score, may I assure Mrs. Booth that I pay more taxes than I can afford and expect they will go even higher —thanks to the new "economy-minded" adminitsration. (I am also in the telephone book if she will put on her spectacles.)

No one expects the lady to "personally feed every hungry child in the world" but the sort of mentality that closes welfare centers, cuts down psychiatric care of the mentally ill and wants those least able to pay tuition in a land that prides itself on free public education for all, is the sort of mentality that also says we should "pave Vietnam over for a parking lot."

It is also the sort of mentality that — in the face of all the evidence — believes capital punishment is a deterrent to crime, has already executed one man who was driven insane by his treatment in our society, and will legally murder many more.

Certainly Reagan has the "right" to attend the Academy Awards when a man's life is in the balance and his position calls for him to at least listen to arguments for clemency. It is just too bad he didn't stay in Hollywood where he was tolerable as a B-picture Western hero on the late-late show. Then, we could at least turn off the set.

Less Sugar — Not More Fluoride

Editor, Independent-Journal:

AGAINST A. B. 1616.

If public water supplies are suitable vehicles for administering drugs, it would be just as logical to dump psychedelics into our water on the pretext that they might improve children's brains!

When the U. S. Public Health Service first started the fluoridation propaganda, they conducted what they called a "Pilot Project," adding fluoride to the water supply of Newburgh, N. Y. but leaving nearby Kingston unflouoridated for purposes of comparison, and claimed fewer incidences of cavities in the teeth of Newburgh's children. However, inasmuch as the natural water of Newburgh contains more than five times as much calcium as Kingston's water does, the fluoride was neutralized by the calcium in the water, vitiating their entire "Pilot Project."

A Public Health Service man recently called a radio program and said that fluoride is essential to life! On the contrary, it is calcium we cannot live without, plus magnesium and vitamins to properly utilize the calcium.

Artificial fluorides (sodium fluoride and sodium silico-fluoride), the kind being put into water supplies, are industrial waste products. They are soluble and poisonous. Being inorganic, humans cannot assimilate them.

Natural fluoride (calcium fluoride) is insoluble and must be acted upon by organisms and acids in the soil before vegetation, and hence humans, can utilize it.

The only way to improve the teeth of children or anyone else is through good diet and hygiene. Refined sugar is the chief cause of tooth decay.

If parents still want their children to drink fluoridated water they could buy it in bottles. Why force all the rest of us to buy pure water, besides paying to medicate all the water used for industries and cleaning?

Peace Marchniks Ignorant Of Watts

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: William Luft's letter in the 26 April 1967 I-J wherein he defended the Peace Marchniks and rattled off a very impressive list of professions who were represented in this worthy cause. I quote from humanitarian Luft: "This concern is based on a humanitarian involvement with all other people."

I have some questions for Mr. Luft. All other people? Why all of a sudden are so many Americans concerned with humanitarianism vis-a-vis American involvement in North Vietnam? Where were these asphalt agitators when Watts exploded? How many dentists, doctors, and social workers (see Luft, I-J, 26 April 67) marched in Harlem? Did any of them run from Bull Connor's dogs in Alabama? Do any of them really care about Hunter's Point? (You can see it if you look toward left field at Candlestick Park.)

It seems to this non-marcher that if Americans are so hot about trodding the pavement that they first form ranks in behalf of American minority groups. Then, when that problem is resolved the same dentists, professors, doctors, et. al. (if they aren't too old or dead) hit the road in support of North Vietnam. Of course, such dedicated people who "are concerned about human condition and want to share this concern with their neighbors" won't mind as long as human conditions are improved among fellow Americans first.

I wonder what the poor Negro kid at Hunter's Point thinks about Americans who will march for North Vietnam but will not lift a foot in his behalf. I think I understand why Martin Luther King has joined forces with the peace marchers. How else could he draw such a big crowd of distinguished Americans?

Accomplishments Are Not News?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Why is it when one of our Marin County youths is picked up for smoking marijuana or drunk driving, it makes the front page of your paper? However, when three young women from Mills College, living in Marin, make Phi Beta Kappa there is no room for their picture and a small article is placed on the society page?

Evidently it is no longer fashionable to accomplish anything.

Wallace Statements Today Are In Conflict With Yesterday's

WASHINGTON (AP)—Trying to pin down Alabama's former governor, George C. Wallace, at this point in his political career is like trying to squeeze ice cream.

Recently he indicated he might run for president in 1968, but he wouldn't say so. At Pittsburgh he told newsman "since I am running for president" and then backtracked, saying the newsmen had him mixed up.

If he did run, he certainly couldn't win. But if he took enough votes away from Democratic and Republican candidates so that neither got a majority, the election would have to be thrown into the House of Representatives.

ON NBC's "Meet the Press" he was asked if this threat to run for president was just "to blackmail one of the parties into accepting your view?" Wallace harps on the need for conservative candidates and party platforms.

Wallace denied any thought of blackmail but earlier this year announced that if the two national parties "don't swing around and fly right in 1968" he would be preaching the conservative cause from coast to coast.

When he ran in 1964 — that is, before he dropped out of the race — he said his purpose was to "conservatize" the two big parties and, if he could keep either from winning, he would gain a pro-Southern bargaining position.

Wallace withdrew from that race after the Republicans nominated Sen. Barry Goldwater. This might have been interpreted as meaning Goldwater was conservative enough to suit Wallace. But he didn't endorse Goldwater.

AND SOMETHING else might have influenced him to pull out: A number of his supporters began to desert him for Goldwater, thus facing him with the possibility of a Wallace-Goldwater split that might leave the Democrats with a majority.

But, anyway, he quit after saying he wouldn't quit.

The former governor, 47 and a segregationist, says "I am not against the policy of nondiscrimination," explaining he would not advocate segregation in any state. But he thinks Alabama's public schools should be segregated.

When asked if he became president whether he would advocate repeal of the civil rights laws now on the books, Wallace said he would advocate modifications and in the next breath said he would advocate some repeals.

So, since practically all of Alabama's school superintendents were trying to meet Federal requirements to desegregate, he was asked why his wife, Lurleen Wallace, Alabama's present governor, is telling them not to.

He was asked a further question: Didn't this mean he was using the very kind of force he doesn't want the federal government to use? Wallace went into a long, spiraling answer which seemed to say the local subdivisions of a state should not be compared with the states and the federal government.

MRS. WALLACE, whose husband is her No. 1 adviser, on March 30 asked the Alabama Legislature for power to take over the schools as one step in a defiant plan to resist a three-judge federal court order to integrate them.

The only reason Mrs. Wallace ran for governor was because the law didn't allow her husband to run again. But on the day she announced she would run, her husband said, "I will dictate the policies" and "both of us will be governor.

This sounded all right to the voters of Alabama who gave them a big victory.

Congress To Use Ax On Foreign Aid Fund

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's $3.126 billion foreign aid budget is headed for certain sharp slashing.

Last year he asked for $3.38 billion, which the President sonorously described as a "bare bones" budget. He would up getting $2.94 billion — nearly $500 million less.

The outlook this year is that Congress will wield an even tougher ax. It's very likely new foreign aid funds will be cut to a record low of $2.5 billion.

Significantly indicative of the deep undercurrent of hostility that prevails in this Congress toward continued large-scale foreign aid spending is the caustic criticism that has erupted in the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

This committee, now considering the bill authorizing the President's new multi-billion dollar budget, has been a foreign aid stronghold in the past. It has steadfastly backed the White House in resisting cuts.

BUT THE SITUATION is notably different this time

A number of top Democratic committeemen have denounced key aspects of the measure and made it clear they favor drastic pruning. Even Representative Thomas Morgan, D-Pa., chairman and an administration stalwart with a long record of resisting foreign aid reductions, has evinced disapproval.

The 36-member committee consists of 21 Democrats and 15 Republicans. A switch of only four Democrats would enable the Republicans to steeply slash the President's budget.

They will try to pare it to around $2.5 billion.

The GOP have a good chance of doing that if Democratic Representatives Wayne Hays, Ohio., Armistead Selden, Ala., Leonard Farbstein, N. Y., L. H. Fountain, N. C., and Edna Kelly, N. Y., vote with them. All have been outspokenly critical during the hearings on this legislation.

CHAIRMAN MORGAN tangled testily with Defense Secretary McNamara over a provision giving him control of, a large part of the proposed military aid.

In questioning McNamara about this, Morgan intimated one reason behind it was the Defense chief's reputed dislike of appearing before congressional committees. The revealing exchange between them is as follows:

"Last year you requested $917 million for military assistance," said Morgan. "This year you are asking for $596 million. Also, you are transferring military assistance for Laos, Thailand and NATO to the Defense Department budget, with the result that there is a much smaller amount for military aid in the foreign aid budget.

"I have heard through the executive grapevine that there is going to be an attempt to switch all military assistance to the Defense Department budget. You have already made substantial progress in that direction. Will we come here some morning and find that all military assistance has become part of the Defense budget?"

McNAMARA REPLIED: "I consider it logistically inefficient and politically undesirable to try to finance military assistance expenditures for Laos, Thailand and NATO in the military assistance program. It seems to me far more desirable for the Defense Department to handle it."

"There is a further rumor," continued Morgan sharply, "that you are tired of appearing before so many committees on Capitol Hill, and that if you can get all military assistance funds incorporated in the Defense budget, you would then have to appear only before the Armed Services and Appropriations Committees.

"I have the impression that eventually you, Secretary Rusk and foreign aid director Gaud are going to arrive at the conclusion that wherever we have American troops overseas, all military assistance funds should be in the Defense budget."

McNamara deftly sidestepped that charge. He told Morgan, "All officials involved would be consulted before reaching a decision." And as far as wanting to avoid appearing before the committee, perish the thought!"

Novato's Boards Seeking Public That Says It Goes To Meetings

The public attitudes survey just completed by the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce, as were its two predecessors, showed the ideas and attitude of a cross section of the people of Novato. As in all surveys, it is subject to some error, but so far, no better way has been found to sample the public's thinking on various matters.

It probably brought a few raised eyebrows or smiles to some of the local governing boards. For example, 90 people claimed that they regularly attended the City Council meetings. Another 135 said that they regularly attended the Novato Unified School District Board meetings. Another 60 said they regularly attended the Novato Fire District Board's meetings.

AN EVEN LARGER number, 405, said they occasionally attended the council meetings. A similarly larger number said that they occasionally attended the other boards.

I have sat through many of these meetings when the representatives of the press were about the only persons there. I am sure that if 135 people attended a school board meeting, the board members would be trembling inwardly, wondering what was wrong.

I realize that a certain amount of civic pride would lead a person to quietly say that he had attended these meetings, knowing that he could not be caught at it. I hope that the rest of the survey is more accurate.

One thing that puzzled me, 32 per cent of those answering, or 485 people, said that they had never used city services. How could that be possible, or is it that they do not know the functions of the city?

DO PEOPLE NOT KNOW that the police that patrol the streets and keep traffic moving, not too fast nor let it get jammed, are a part of the city's service?

Don't they realize that keeping the streets in front of their homes swept and repaired are also city functions? The street lights that are kept burning and quickly replaced when burned out are also a function of the city. The planning of new subdivisions and overseeing that the construction is done according to the city's standards, are also functions of the city.

Is it possible that someone could live in city and not use any of these functions of government?

This survey also showed a trend away from asking for parks and a trend away from supporting a bond issue for them. There were also more complaints that taxes are too high. More demands were made for street maintenance. That is understandable because this winter has been the worst on streets for many years because of the continued rains.

ONE COMPLAINT THAT came up quite regularly on the comments was the lack of enforcement of the leash law. People are complaining more about dogs running at large. I think that this has been the worst year since I have been here for dogs killing sheep in the Novato area. I do not know why this year should be worse than any other, but it seems to be. Every few days a case appears on the police blotter about dogs killing sheep or maiming them so badly that they had to be shot.

There were also many complaints about the telephone service and the cost of telephones. People in Novato have been patient for years with having two telephone companies serving the city. This dissatisfaction led to toll free service between the two companies some years back, but still people complain. It is a problem which the private companies should investigate and try to correct.

BECAUSE THE BIGGEST majority of the residents work elsewhere, Novato has always been a poor city for business. There were the same complaints on this survey as in past surveys, about the stores not having goods they want or the city not having a large department store.

One person hit a highlight on answering the question on what they thought of the general appearance of the business district. This person answered that question with the question:

About The Birds And The Bees And Other Comments About S-x

I pretend to no expertise on S-x. Not only am I getting on, but even in my younger years it was more of an avocation — a delightful one, to be sure — than a vocation. Compared to such professionals as Casanova, Dr. Kinsey and the many current intelligentsia who dedicate their entire lives to it with such selfless devotion, I am at best only a dilettante.

Nevertheless, the subject still has some fascination, and even an amateur like myself has occasionally ventured some remarks on it. Just as, though I no longer play baseball, I still deem it my unalienable right to protest from the grandstand when a myopic umpire calls a home batter out on strikes on a pitch palpably below the knees.

YET WHEN, IN THAT same spirit, I write about S-x, I am sternly admonished to stick to my last, with the obvious implication that I am a combination of Pecksniff and Anthony Comstock. Indeed, a university critic, discussing some comments of mine on the topic, notes with ill-concealed disdain that "the immorality of modern society" is "a favorite theme among conservative writers."

That may be true, but Heaven knows the S-xual Revolution is far from an uncommon theme among liberals. Witness the formidable array of books, articles, TV and radio programs, lectures and every other communication medium on the subject, usually with praise for the bright, new spirits who have broken the outmoded taboos. May not a conservative participate in the dialogue at all?

It would be easier on us if the S-xual Revolution took a coffee-break now and then, but, from early morning till the late TV and radio programs, its flaming advocates din it into our ears. And even on Sunday, taking a spin, you pass a dozen restaurants advertising "Topless!" And it seems only yesterday that a restaurant was a place to eat.

I CONCEDE WE'RE old-fashioned. Our two children were born in New York; we ordered the girl from Macy's and the boy from Gimbel's, and, in the main, both have proven satisfactory. True, Macy's was two days late on the delivery of our daughter, and Gimbel's, as we discovered, would not make any exchange after 30 days. But, on the whole, we would recommend both firms. And my son is even now, he tells me, negotiating with a Washington department store for a June delivery.

Now I don't say there isn't a better way, and my wife an I are often tempted to see one of those movies that advertise: "Sensational! Children under 18 not admitted unless accompanied by adults."

But in our set it's hard to find a kid under 18, and we don't see the sense of going unless one of the younger generation is there to explain it. It would be Sanskrit to us.

WE DID SEE ONE of those TV panel shows the other night in which a middle-aged couple told the joys of spouse-swapping. They belong to a group which apparently engages in this pastime once a week and they never, they assured us, had so much fun. The mediator asked would they allow their daughter, aged 20, to participate. "Oh, yes," they replied. "Just as soon as she wants to."

What puzzled us was that the couple wore masks. Though apparently ready to disrobe any time, they obviously thought it immodest to reveal their faces. . . . I remember reading about an African tribe with similar taboos.

And just the other day a press dispatch announced that an Eastern high-school was fitting — with parental consent — its over-sexed girls with a contraceptive device in order to cut down on its rate of unmarried mothers. And the proud educator responsible bragged that his school was the first. . . . How long till Headstart follows?

WELL, LIVE AND LEARN. As a youngster, I learned what went on in Sodom from the dictionary, through the noun derived from that city's name. But I was left wondering what went on in Gomorrah.

Now I think I know.

DRAMA REVIEW

ACT Lays An Egg With 'Old Lace'

By KARL BARRON

SAN FRANCISCO — "Arsenic and Old Lace," which opened at the Geary Theater Saturday night, is as close to sheer disaster as the American Conservatory Theater has come in its highly successful season.

Those so inclined may blame its being the 13th production of the repertoire. Those delving deeper will attribute it to a combination of a play which has no lasting qualities with careless acting and failure of the director.

SAVING GRACES

The only saving graces are magnificent performances by Carol Teitel and Ken Ruta, and Author Joseph Kesselring's built-in laughs, which are in the situations no matter how badly they are presented. Unfortunately, there are too many dull spots between gags and many situations depend upon their freshness for effect. Since the plot is so well known, the impact is lost.

The old lace ladies, sweet, religious and well-meaning in their arsenic, strychnine and cyanide administering, are set upon by a long-lost nephew whose plastic surgeon has made him resenble Boris Karloff. The double joke of the original was Karloff playing himself. Ruta gives the role all the energy and overplaying necessary to anyone not Karloff. With square head, sunken black eyes, revived corpse walk and a laugh which has to be heard to be believed, he obviously enjoys himself and communicates that enjoyment to the audience.

MASTERPIECE

Miss Teitel as Abby, the more fey of the maiden ladies, flutters about in a manner so subtly overplayed that it is a masterpiece. Her innocent eyes as she prepares to snare another victim, her outraged protests against inclusion of a "foreigner" in her graveyard, her indignation against Jonathan, the criminal nephew, are all done with delicate relish.

Richard A. Dysart, ACT's fine character man, falls into a trap of being too good. As Teddy Brewster, who thinks he is Teddy Roosevelt, Dysart creates such a faithful portrait of TR that we feel he is the man, rather than a zany who thinks he is. The farce is lost.

RIDICULOUS

As Mortimer, the newphw who attempts to straighten out the complications, Paul Shenar uses what are obviously his standard mannerisms to utter disadvantage. Body movements akin to a plague-ridden scarecrow may lend a gothic grotesquerie to "Tiny Alice." In "Arsenic" they are just ridiculous.

Austin Pendleton as Dr. Einstein is obviously Austin Pendleton in a marvelous makeup, Ellen Geer is mannered and seldom convincing. None of the policemen is real. Dennis Percy and Richard Glyer contribute neat vignettes.

The play is placed in Stuart W'urtzel's setting for "Tartuffe" with different furniture. It is adequate. Perhaps the management felt this production would not last long enough to warrant its own set.

To director Allan Fletcher must go the blame for the lack of precision which besets the play.

INEVITABLE

However, ACT is still presenting 11 other fine productions, ("The Torchbearers" has been withdrawn), and with this record of fine-feathered birds, a turkey was almost inevitable.

Mill Valleyan Wins National Organ Contest

Russell Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Taylor of Mill Valley, is winner of the $350 prize award in a national organ playing competition sponsored by the Santa Barbara chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

In addition to the money award, the winner was sponsored in a recital given in the First Methodist Church, Santa Barbara.

Taylor is a student of Dr. Roger Nyquist, head of the organ department at the University of California at Santa Barbara, where he is majoring in political science. He earlier studied with Wilbur F. Russell of the San Francisco Teological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Kentfield Fire Tax May Climb

The Kentfield Fire Commission last night approved a preliminary budget for fiscal 1968 which could mean a 19 cent increase in the tax rate.

The preliminary budget totals $207,746, compared to $153,260 this year. Fire Chief Kenneth Kamp said the budget includes $75,000 for the new firehouse.

He said the district tax rate for fiscal 1968 could be 89 cents, compared to 70 cents per $100 assessed valuation this year, but that the increase would last only one year, and the rate would decrease in fiscal 1969.

Car Hits Child Crossing Street

A 7-year-old San Anselmo boy was hit by a car in a crosswalk on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in front of Isabel Cook School yesterday at 5:07 p.m., San Anselmo police reported.

Charles S. Oakander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Oakander of 45 Medway Road, was treated for forehead cuts at Marin General Hospital.

Police said two westbound cars stopped for him to cross, but he was hit by an eastbound car driven by Milton Wertheim, 55, of San Francisco. Wertheim was cited for failure to yield to a pedestrian in a crosswalk.

Auditions Announced

Auditions for next season's Marin Youth Orchestra, directed by Hugo Rinaldi, will be held May 8-15 at San Rafael High School. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. G. E. Mosteller of Muir Beach.

and LSD usage in the past six months," says Burnell H. Blanchard, head of the southern division of the State Bureau of Narcotics Enforcement at Los Angeles.

"And in the past three months all hell has broken loose."

Figures bear out the assessment of the 24-year veteran of narcotic enforcement. In Los Angeles County, the state's most populous, juvenile drug arrests for the first three months of 1967 total 881, more than doubling the 406 for the same period last year.

San Francisco's head of police narcotics, Lt. Norbert Currie, says:

"I am concerned that the use of marijuana and drugs here by boys and girls under 18 is on the verge of an explosion."

Arrests are mushrooming in the Golden Gate city where, as the editor of Balboa High School's newspaper wrote in his farewell editorial, "Too many find their kicks in LSD and marijuana rather than football games or an occasional beer."

"There have been 114 juvenile narcotic arrests in the first 103 days of 1967 in contrast with 167 for all of last year," Currie notes.

Agrees Sgt. Eugene Zappey in Los Angeles:

"The number of arrests we make compared with the number of users is just a drop in the ocean."

"Up to two years ago, there was no problem, just a few isolated cases in the field of drugs," observes Capt. Ted Brown of the Oakland police narcotics bureau.

"During the past two years, the increase in the abuse of drugs among kids came to a head. Recently 65 to 70 kids were caught in one high school. None was for heroin. Mostly marijuana and there was some LSD."

An 18-month survey by University of California researchers, after gaining the trust of 200 users in Oakland, said use of marijuana by both poor and wealthy children "is increasing fantastically" and that drug usage by some Oakland teen-agers was "as common as eating breakfast."

"We're running the full gamut —upper class, middle class and lower class kids," reports Police Capt. William H. MacKenzie, responsible for narcotics law enforcement in San Jose.

"It's like the outbreak of a disease which has to be stamped out."

He said that half of 100 youths he questioned had used marijuana and the teen-age use apparently had spread to all the socio-economic strata.

"It's the thing to do to be with the 'in' crowd," Sergeant Young says.

"Narcotic arrests of teen-agers in California last year were 5,035, up 86 per cent over 1965," O'Brien says.

"Juvenile arrests for using or possessing marijuana were 3,869, up 140 per cent over 1965.

"If the present trend in 1967 continues, there will be an even more dramatic increase in marijuana and a very startling figure in the use of LSD. There were no LSD arrests in 1966.

"We are finding drug usage by teen-agers in parts of the state which had no significant use of drugs at all up until the last 18 months or so."

Arrests only scratch the surface of official concern. What bothers is the wildfire spread onto high school campuses and into teen-age social gatherings of narcotics in general and marijuana in particular.

Worse yet, the authorities just can't shake loose the parental viewpoint that "My child would never do that."

In San Diego, Robert Bacon, a teacher in Madison High School, spent months gaining the confidence of youths until he got some 35 users to talk freely about what's going on.

"My findings," Bacon says, "make me believe the average teacher and the average parent are not at all aware of the very dangerous thing arising in our midst."

Perry To Hurl Against Mets Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—The seventh place San Francisco Giants open a three-night series against New York tonight, hoping to use the ninth place Mets as a door mat to continue their slow ascent in the National League.

Coming off a three-game sweep of Los Angeles and six victories in their past eight games, they already have climbed three spots above the cellar. Immediately above them, by only one game, is Philadelphia which hosts Houston.

Perry is 1-2 this season and was 1-2 against the Mets a year ago but 7-4 lifetime over the club managed by Wes Westrum, another former Giant.

If that isn't enough, Bob Shaw, still another ex-Giant, is slated to pitch against San Francisco tomorrow night. Bob's 0-3.

Mays, who sat out the entire Los Angeles series, hasn't played since Thursday. He's started only 8 of the Giants' 16 games and appeared in 2 others as a pinch hitter. Seven hits in 31 at-bats produced a .231 batting average.

For years, fans have said, "As Mays goes, so go the Giants."

But after the Giants swept the Los Angeles series with Willie on the bench, he quipped of the possibility of returning to the lineup:

Manager Herman Franks of the Giants planned to pitch lefthander Mike McCormick, 0-1, against Shaw tomorrow night and to throw his other ace, righthander Juan Marichal, 2-3, at the Mets in the series finale Thursday night.

FAIRBANKS IS NAMED SOONERS' GRID COACH

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Charles F. Fairbanks was named today as head coach of the University of Oklahoma football team, replacing Jim Mackenzie who died last Friday.

Oklahoma University president George L. Cross appointed Fairbanks, 33, upon recommendation of the Athletic Council which met in an emergency session Sunday interviewing candidates recommended by Athletic Director Gomer Jones.

Doggy On The Field Answers Call To Arms

PLAY BALL — San Anselmo youth baseball league's opening ceremonies Sunday were quite impressive.

And out of nowhere came a little dog that trotted onto the field and did on a Legionnaire's rifle what little dogs usually do on fire hydrants.

Giants Invite Kids To Games

INVITATION — Walter Mails of the Giants' public relations staff calls to report the San Francisco team's free kids day program at Candlestick Park will begin June 19 and that reservations for dates should be requested immediately if not sooner.

WALTER MAILS

Groups of children in the 9-14 age bracket will be admitted free to Giants' home, weekday afternoon games throughout the season. You send Mails a letter, he sets the date.

In their campaign to woo future paying customers, the Giants have entertained more than one million youngsters in the eight years Mails has been directing the program.

By the way, his many Marin fans will be happy to know that Mails is making a steady recovery from his severe heart attack of last December and is now on a half-day working basis at Candlestick.

Dis-Tressing Column Answered

THE THREAT — In reply to my stand (April 28) that long-haired male students do not belong in boys' athletics, Drake High student body president Jared Rossman writes:

"Dear Mr. Gilmartin:

"Unfortunately for those 'wholesome coaches' who purport to regiment the grooming habits of Marin's high school athletes, the control they wield outside the realm of rah-rah sports and pom-pom girls is very limited. They have no such power when it comes to determining the role of students in academic affairs and extra-curricular pursuits.

"We, too, at Sir Francis Drake High School, have a student body composed of individuals representing a broad spectrum of interests, activities and philosophies. And we, too, have hair which varies in length from crew-cut to shoulder-top. But we would never cast slurs upon the right or ability of any member of our school community to participate in the areas he chooses, regardless of his personal appearance.

"Several times in the past, we at Drake have run afoul of attempts by the Physical Education Department at forced conformity. But there will not be another case of a student being denied the opportunity to enter athletics because the coach dislikes his looks.

Sounds Like A $24,000 Threat

"No more will we challenge the administration; no more will we complain to the Marin County Athletic League Board. For now we have a powerful weapon: and again, unfortunately, Mr. Gilmartin—for you. It happens that 'those punks who wear their hair down to their ears'are now the elected officers who control the Drake Student Government—and $24,000 worth of the student body budget.

"The next time, Mr. Gilmartin, we will not have to stand aside and let 'wholesome' coaches and pitiful sports writers abridge the personal freedom and integrity of those of whom they do not approve. We will simply and rapidly cut off the flow of student body money which supplies those very same tennis coaches with balls, uniforms, transportation costs, and tournament fees. Thus, no equality in team selection, no tennis team!

"We need no American Civil Liberties Union to point out that discrimination, though concealed behind the authority of a coach in high school, is nonetheless wrong. The power of student voice and cooperative effort is perhaps the sole way to insure that the only people 'drummed out of the sports parade, will be those who attempt to impose their moral and ethical standards upon others . . ."

I'LL DO IT MYSELF

Boston Red Sox pitcher Dennis Bennett (28) did it practically all by his lonesome as he is congratulated by Russ Gibson at the plate after belting a three-run homer to help out his five-hit, 4-0 victory over the California Angels at Anaheim last night. (AP Wirephoto)

Collegiate Star Jim Walker Signs With Detroit Pistons

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Walker, Providence All-America and the nation's top scorer among major teams last season, has been signed to a four-year contract by the Detroit Pistons, the National Basketball Association club announced today.

The 6-foot-3 Bostonian, an outstanding playmaker as well as scorer, averaged 30.4 points in 28 games last season in beating UCLA's towering Lew Alcindor for the point-making laurels in a battle through the post-season games.

Detroit has the No. 1 pick in the NBA's college draft starting tomorrow. Walker had been drafted by Indianapolis of the new American Basketball Association.

Walker will join Dave Bing the Rookie of the Year in the NBA, in the Pistons' backcourt. Bing, a Syracuse University star, was the Pistons' No. 1 draft pick last year. He led the Pistons in scoring with 20 points a game and in assists with 330.

No terms were announced. But the Pistons probably had to go over $250,000 to get him. His agent, Frank Scott, had said he was going to ask $300,000 for a three-year pact.

Detroit coach Donnie Butcher said," we like to think Walker can be the same type of player for us that Oscar Robertson has been for the Cincinnati Royals."

Butcher, who had been the Pistons' chief scout until he succeeded player-coach Dave DeBusschere as coach last season, said he had scouted the 22-year-old, 205-pound Walker for two years.

DeBusschere, player-coach for nearly three seasons, quit as mentor with seven games to go last season. He was succeeded by Butcher who was signed later to coach for the 1967-68 season.

The Pistons finished fifth and last in the NBA's Western Division, trailing the fledgling Chicago Bulls by three games.

THEY'LL TALK SOME MORE

Stalemate In Track Feud

NEW YORK (AP)—A confrontation between representatives of the feuding NCAA and AAU has failed to break the long-standing stalemate over direction of amateur athletics in the United States.

An arbitration board, headed by mediator Theodore W. Kheil, reported yesterday that no conclusions had been reached in the lengthy power struggle after day-long hearings with officials of both groups.

Kheel said further meetings would be held tonight between the AAU, which currently has sanctioning power over most amateur events in the country, and the NCAA, which represents most of the nation's colleges and has insisted on control over the same events.

Rev. Wilford H. Crowley, president of the U.S. Track and Field Federation, demanded at yesterday's session that the AAU be directed to submit for world consideration the 1:44.9 half-mile mark set by Kansas' Jim Ryun last June in a Terre Haute, Ind., meet that was not sanctioned by the AAU.

Representing the NCAA at the mid-town hotel meeting were President Marcus Plante of the University of Michigan and Executive Director Walter Byers of Kansas City.

AAU President David Matlin of Los Angeles and Executive Director Col. Don Hull of New York also attended the meeting.

Clay Case To Grand Jury Sooner Than Anticipated

HOUSTON (AP) — U.S. Atty. Morton Susman said today criminal action against former heavyweight champion Cassius Clay may come earlier than previously expected since the draft board had advance notice of Clay's intentions.

Clay refused Friday to be inducted into the Army.

"As soon as we get the board's file, we will present the case to a grand jury," Susman said.

The next scheduled meeting of a federal grand jury in South Texas will be May 19 in Corpus Christi, although a grand jury may meet here this month also.

Susman earlier had said it could be 30 to 60 days before criminal action could be taken against the fighter who asserts he is a Muslim minister.

The penalty, upon conviction, for refusing to answer the draft board call is a maximum five years, a $10,000 fine, or both.

Redwood's Netters Win

Redwood moved into a share of the Marin County Athletic League tennis lead by handing Marin Catholic its sixth loss without a win in loop play, 5-0, at San Dominican College in San Rafael yesterday.

Singles — Steve McDonald (R) d. Jim Gardner, 6-1, 6-0; Dave Walter (R) d. Kevin Madera, 6-2, 6-2; Greg Leininger (R) d. Gus Reif, 6-2, 6-0. Doubles — Dave Slocum and Jeff Allen (R) d. Tom Speeg and Ed Gutteling, 6-3, 6-3; Parker Hand and Doug Graham (R) d. Jim Miller and Etienne Rolin, 6-0, 6-0.

Seattle Makes Surprise Pick

NEW YORK (AP)—Richie Guerin, the St. Louis Hawks' canny floor boss, has bowed out as a player again and Al Bianchi of Seattle's new National Basketball Association franchise is making it permanent the second time around.

Guerin doubtless will continue to coach St. Louis but, should he change his mind about playing — as he did last fall after retiring — he'll have to play for Seattle.

NO WORRY NOW

"Now I know he isn't going to play," Bianchi said at the draft session, where Seattle and San Diego — the two NBA newcomers — each picked 15 players from the 10 established clubs as part of their $1,750,000 entry fee. "I don't want to have to worry about his coming back in the middle of the season. After all, they are in our division."

Bianchi was Johnny Kerr's assistant coach at Chicago last spring when Guerin stepped down as a player before the fledgling Chicago Bulls made their selections in the expansion draft. The Bulls passed him up while St. Louis was able to protect an extra player.

Guerin then switched signals, returned to the active list and led the Hawks to a second-place finish in the league's Western Division.

PLEASED

Jack McMahon, the San Diego pilot, was pleased to land forward Jon McGlocklin, who played for him last season at Cincinnati, in yesterday's draft session.

"I didn't expect he would be on the list," McMahon said. "We feel we have a quick team and a good combination, although there is not a whole lot of size. We did better than anticipated."

San Diego picked up three big men —7-foot Henry Finkel from Los Angeles, 6-8 Toby Kimball from Boston and 6-8 Wayne Molis from New York. Among McMahon's other selections were veterans Johnny Green and John Barnhill from Baltimore, Dave Gambee from Philadelphia's NBA champions, Charley Vaughan from Detroit and Paul Neumann from San Francisco.

Neumann, however, has indicated he'll retire and become freshman coach at Stanford University.

MESCHERY, OLSON

Seattle chose another San Francisco veteran, forward Tom Meschery, who also has announced his retirement. "I think I have a chance of talking him out of it," Bianchi said.

Others picked by Seattle included Walt Hazzard from Los Angeles, Bud Olsen from San Francisco, Rod Thorn from St. Louis, Henry Akin from New York and George Wilson from Chicago.

"We got some good kids," Bianchi said. "Some of those young guys never really got a chance. We had the same situation last year in Chicago and many of them came through for us."

Each of the 10 old clubs was able to freeze seven players, then protect another after the new teams made their first pick. The old teams lost three men apiece in the draft.

Olympic Trials In L.A.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Members of 20 U.S. Olympic teams for 1968 will be picked to go to Mexico City from trials in the Los Angeles area.

The U.S. Olympic Committee in New York announced yesterday that Memorial Coliseum, south of the Los Angeles business area, will be the site of the major activity.

The same trials were conducted there in 1952, 1956, and 1964.

Long Beach, site for the rowing competition in the 1932 Olympics, spent about $2 million last year for improvements, including a boathouse at the stadium.

WATER SPORTS

Chairman Bill Lippman of the U.S. Olympic Swimming Committee said here yesterday the site on those meets will be decided in August.

The 5.5 meter yachting trials will be at Newport Beach. Trials for smaller yachts may also end up in Southern California.

Some cycling trials are destined for the Encino Velo Drome in the San Fernando Valley.

Tar Golfers Remain Third

College of Marin's golf team became more deeply embedded in third place in the Golden Valley Conference standings with a sub-par 195 point total at yesterday's GVC meet at Silvarado Country Club in Napa.

Second-place Santa Rosa picked up more ground on the Tars, totaling 204 points to lead College of Marin by 12 points.

The best round of the day belonged to home team Napa, 219 points, paced by Pat Goodwin's three-under par 69.

Sierra has a big lead in the overall standings with 1,102 points, followed by Santa Rosa, 1,049, and College of Marin, 1,037.

Top scorer for Marin was Mike Kelly with a 78, followed by Terry Young, 84, Mike Maherin, 84, Ron Cannady, 84, and Dave Cardy, 85.

JIM MURRAY

Felipe Alou Throws, Runs, Hits For God

The Dominican Republic is one of a chain of Caribbean jewel islands of more interest to the United Fruit Co. than the United Nations—19,129 square miles of bananas, sugar cane and poverty. It is ruled by whoever's turn it is to use the machine gun. You can recognize downtown Santo Domingo by the bullet holes.

It is really only two-thirds of an island. It is completely surrounded by the Atlantic Ocean and Haiti and covered by banana peels. Chicago has more population. The U.S. Marines go in and out so often they keep the motor running both ways.

COLUMBUS FIRST landed here. Today, it is a polyglot, a racial bouillabaisse of mixed European, African, Indian and South American blood, sometimes all of it found in one person. It is the unlikeliest place to find the National League All-Star team, but if you start with a lineup consisting of the Alou brothers, Felipe, Mateo and Jesus, then add pitcher Juan Marichal and second baseman Julian Javier, you don't need much else except a ball.

THIS EXTRAORDINARY invasion of major league baseball was led by an extraordinary young man with the bulging neck of a prize bull, the speed of a startled zebra. Felipe Rojas Alou (the family name is really "Rojas," but a minor league manager got hopelessly lost in the Spanish moss of tacking the mother's surname on the end of the official signature and the Rojas brothers became, forever, the "Alou" brothers to the Sporting News and the Spalding Guides and will go to Cooperstown that way) is a boy from the canebrakes who knelt down in the Seals Stadium locker room one night between batting practice and "Play Ball!" and dedicated his life to Christ at the feet of a devout relief pitcher while Johnny Antonelli, Daryl Spencer, Hobie Landrith and Ed Bailey looked on open jawed.

FELIPE'S STORY is explained in a new biography (with coauthor Herm Weiskopf) rather woodenly titled, "My Life And Baseball."

Most ballplayers, when they carry a book around with them, it's something more immediately useful like, "How To Play Second Base," "The Curve Ball Aand How To Recognize It Before It's Too Late," and the books are written by Grantland Rice or Walter Camp or Arthur Daley.

FELIPE ALOU'S book was written by Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. It's a sampling of messages intercepted on their way to the Corinthians and the Romans and contains no direct references to the infield-fly rule or the spitball.

A friend gave Felipe a Bible as a going-away gift when he left the land of Columbus in the year 1958, and Felipe remembers being annoyed it wasn't something more practical, like a guide on how to get along in the Cracker South or even a book on how to order food in English.

IT TURNED out to be as timely as tomorrow, one thousand pages of solace for the long months under the mocking words "Colored Only," something to turn to when the police cars chased you from the Florida drive-ins, or a postgame comfort when your career took you north where the people were warmer but the weather wasn't.

FELIPE ALOU, who grew strong anviling horseshoes in his father's blacksmith shop, who grew accurate cutting down sugar cane with a bolo, grew wise in the pages of a well-thumbed book with no pictures in it but the songs of life on every page. He became sustained by psalms when fooled by curves, joined the Baptist church at the behest of relief pitcher Allan Worthington, became a fellow of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. The son of a Caucasian mother and a Negro father, coming from a land that knew hate but, based on geography and sugar, not bigotry, Felipe had to struggle with more than some kind of hit or thrown ball to find himself in this complex new world.

HE BECAME a symbol for 70 Latins and their astonishing breakthrough in major league ball. Traded away from the Giants in one of their least felicitous forays into the slave market for an overage catcher and pitchers to match, Felipe was the second-best batter in the league last year. The first-best was his kid brother, Matty.

He led the loop in total bases and times-at-bat. He would have led in RBI's, perhaps, execpt the Braves ingeniously arranged for his first 18 home runs to come with no one on base. They batted him leadoff. This effectively wasted three-fifths of his 31 home runs and almost all of his 32 doubles and 6 triples.

BUT FELIPE'S Manager has a bigger lineup than nine and has larger lessons than the hit-and-run play. And a well-worn Spanish Bible has carried him this far, from the fly-blown, naked-bulb dressing rooms of Cocoa Beach to the air-conditioned, carpeted Atlanta Stadium and Felipe would like to do two things: Bring the pennant to Atlanta and the word of God to the world. A man not afraid to kneel in a spitting, swearing locker room should have nothing to fear from a mere baseball. He may be leading off for Atlanta but he's batting cleanup in a bigger league.

McAuley Fires Ace

Tom McAuley of San Rafael fired a hole-in-one on the fly at the 134-yard eighth hole at Mill Valley Golf Course yesterday. McAuley used an eight iron playing in a twosome with Lowell Jackson.

O'Dell Pitches Bucs To Fifth Straight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

That's where Billy O'Dell was, and the Pirates weren't expecting him to be of much help in stabilizing the shaky pitching corps that threatened to prevent them from winning the National League pennant.

The veteran left-hander and former San Francisco Giants hurler, made a strong bid for a permanent spot in that rotation last night as he won his second game of the young season in Pittsburgh's fifth straight victory — an 8-5 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals.

O'Dell, now 34 and in his 13th major league season, almost was certain that the 12th season would be his last. But that was before doctors discovered he had Addison's disease.

"I had been sick since the first part of last season," O'Dell related after holding the Cardinals to four hits before needing relief help in the eighth inning. "I was losing weight, I was nauseous, I couldn't eat or sleep and I was dizzy and weak.

"I started going to doctors, but no one knew what was wrong with me. I went to a lot of hospitals for tests, but they didn't help either. Finally this past February the doctors found out what it was."

Addison's disease, far from being a common illness, affects the adrenalin glands and causes a loss of salt in the body.

"Now I'm on medication," said O'Dell, who reported to spring training nearly a month late, then stayed behind for an extra two weeks when the Pirates headed north. "I can't do without it. As long as I'm on it, I'm fine.

"I feel good and strong now. I don't feel any affects of it anymore. I was anxious to go as long as I could tonight. I wanted to see if I would get tired."

The southpaw said he didn't get tired, but he did get a little wild, and Manager Harry Walker removed him in the eighth after he issued his sixth and seventh walks.

In the only other games played, Baltimore edged Cleveland 8-7 and Boston blanked California 4-0. Rainwashed out New York at Minnesota.

O'Dell's first victory this season came in relief when he set down Philadelphia on one hit for 5⅓ innings. That performance earned him last night's start.

He was amply supported by Manny Moto, another ex-Giants, had two hits and drove in three runs, and Roberto Clemente, who collected three hits and knocked in two runs. O'Dell let in just one run, but the two men he walked in the eighth also scored.

Cleveland jumped off to a 5-0 lead against Baltimore in th first inning, but the Oriole fought back and were down 7- going into the eighth.

After Dave Johnson and Pat Blair singled, Russ Snyde came in to bat for Andy Etel barren, and Bob Allen came i to pitch for the Indians. Wood Held then went up for Snyde and hit Allen's first pitch for three-run homer.

Dennis Bennett hit a three-ru homer against California, an his six-hit shutout pitching stan up. Bennett's complete gam was the sixth in 15 games fo Boston this year.

Has Jim Taylor Become A Saint?

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW ORLEANS — A New Orleans sportscaster says Jimmy Taylor has signed a contract of $100,000 to play with the New Orleans Saints of the National Football League.

Neither Taylor nor officials of the Saints could be reached for comment on the report by Hap Glaudi of WWL-TV last night.

Taylor, 31, a star at Louisians State University in 1957, has played his entire professional career with the Green Bay Packers.

Taylor became a free agent yesterday when the Packers refused to meet his salary demands. However, according to a source here, he cannot officially talk to any other NFL club until official notification is received of his free agent status.

Glaudi said Taylor's signing would be announced in three or four days after approval is given by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Lester Wins By Knockout In S. F. Bout

All Jimmy Lester wanted was a draw, but he got the knockout he needed over cagey veteran Charley Austin.

Behind on two of three scorecards last night in Kezar Pavilion, San Francisco, Lester came out winging in the 10th round and scored a knockout only 22 seconds from the final bell.

Lester, 159, of San Francisco, first decked Austin, 161, of San Diego, with a left hook. Austin went down hard from a right hand moments later and arose groggy and staggering before Referee Jack Downey could count 10. The fight was stopped and Lester given the KO.

Austin, once of Phoenix, Ariz., was ahead 7-1-1 on the card of judge Fred Apostoli and 5-1-3 on the card of judge John Lotsey. Downey had Lester ahead 5-3-1.

In a companion 10-rounder, Rollie Penaroya, 118, failed to win for the first time since coming to Stockton, Calif., from Cebu City, The Philippines. He was held to a draw by Mexico's Lupe Gonzales, 120½.

PREP STATISTICS

Redwood Hurler A One-Man Gang

Kevin Wilson, Redwood's multi-talented outfielder-pitcher has his finger in about every Marin County Athletic League statistical pie as the season reluctantly draws to its half-way mark.

Wilson, a bespectacled senior, leads the league in hitting, is tied for the runs-batted-in and runs scored lead and is in a three-way jam for the pitching derby with two victories.

Wilson is whacking the ball at a hot .526 pace with 10 hits in 19 at bats, a good distance from runnerup Mike Biber of Tamalpais at .429. He's batted in five runs, the same number as Mike Alvarez of Drake and Sam Davis of Redwood, and has scored seven runs to tie Biber for the lead in that department.

PITCHING RECORD

His 2-0 pitching record is for 17 innings of work. He has 10 strikeouts to go with it. Chuck Ashworth of Novato and Ron Corona of Terra Linda also have 2-0 marks while Ralph Asay of Drake, Rich Geissinger and Joe Riekena are also undefeated with 1-0 marks. Brian King of Marin Catholic is the strikeout leader with 29.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Despair And Helplessness Lead To Most Of Suicides

VAN DELLEN

Despair and helplessness lead to most suicides. Diagnosing desperation is difficult because many people are clever in hiding their troubles. They bear immense inner burdens without complaining. According to Dr. Leston L. Havens of Boston, their "... independence, the brave front arise from fear and pride; the person is trapped inside his cheerful, courageous mask, behind which accumulate unspoken conviction of not being understood or the burdens appreciated."

In many instances the potential suicide offers clues that must not be taken lightly. Families should be on the alert when feelings of depression are insurmountable to the individual. Other danger signals include feelings of guilt and self-deprecation, fear of losing control, and insomnia, especially when accompanied by anxiety and dread.

NEVER DISREGARD suicidal thoughts or a preoccupation with wanting to die. Anyone with these manifestations should see the family physician or psychiatrist. Unfortunately, many of those contemplating self-destruction put on such a good act, they are not recognized in time.

Dr. Havens, writing in the New England Journal of Medicine, presents a systemized approach to detecting elusive suicidal risks. Tracking them down takes real detective work, tact, and a thorough knowledge of their emotional makeup. Much can be learned by listening more and talking less.

THE PSYCHIATRIST must observe their speech, expression, movement, dress, and all the outer signs. Anything that does not fit or that fits too well is suspect. Such people are typical examples of "smiling on the outside while crying on the inside."

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.

UGLY SCAR

D. S. writes: After an operation on my arm for removal of a cyst, I developed a keloid. Can it be eliminated?

REPLY

Yes. Although there is no guarantee that it will not recur after the second operation. During the last few years encouraging reports have appeared on the use of Cortisone-like porducts in the prevention of keloid formation. These solutions are injected into the scar or administered orally. Treatments with solid carbon dioxide and X-ray also have been effective. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on keloids.

READ ON, MACDUFF

K. J. writes: Because I have occasional headaches, my brother claims they are caused by poor digestion brought on by my habit of reading while eating. I disagree. Will you please settle this controversy?

REPLY

Your brother is wrong on two counts: Reading does not cause indigestion, and indigestion does not cause headache. On the other hand, reading may cause headache.

LEG MUSCLES

Mary writes: I have a lot of muscles in my legs. What exercise could I do to get rid of them? I am 12 years old.

REPLY

Be patient, time will take care of this problem. With maturity, muscles have a tendency to soften and become less noticeable. In addition, they may slim out when you grow taller.

VITAL TEST

A. N. writes: What diseases are diagnosed via a urine test?

REPLY

The principal diseases are diabetes and kidney and renal disorders. There are many other conditions in which abnormalities of the urine are noted but additional tests are needed to make the diagnosis.

Professional Center For Quail Hill Asked

A new plan for Quail Hill, which would reduce the number of townhouses previously approved by the San Rafael City Council and substitute a professional center, has been proposed by a Chicago-based publishing firm.

Commerce Clearing House, Inc., publisher of loose-leaf reports for the legal and accounting professions, government agencies, universities and businesses, wants to locate its western regional headquarters on the hill behind the Northgate Shopping Center. The headquarters is now at 351 California Street, San Francisco.

Last June the San Rafael City Council ended several years of haggling over the site by approving a plan for townhouses and detached homes under planned community zoning. The approved plan, by engineer Carlos Gonzales, called for 216 townhouses and 34 single-family homes.

The plan proposed by Commerce Clearing House calls for 110 individually owned townhouses, 34 single-family homes and a reception center on the south side of the hill. The north side would have six administrative and professional sites (with the possibility of one site being used for a conference and study center) and an office building. The top of the hill would be left in its natural state.

Richard K. Duncan, CCH vice president, said preliminary meetings have been held with directors of the Terra Linda Home Owners Association, the planning commission and the city manager.

S. J. Hugh Allen, San Rafael attorney and counsel for CCH, said an application will be filed with the planning commission next week.

According to Duncan, the north side of the hill would be a garden type development for both CCH and other firms wishing to locate there. CCH operations would not include heavy printing, manufacturing or warehousing, he said, and provision would be made for a "study or learning center" with living accommodations for 200 and meeting and study rooms "if this enjoys sufficient support from the professions."

Marquis and Stoller have been engaged as architects, Gonzalez, as engineer, and Eckbo, Dean, Austin and Williams as landscape architects. Harding, Miller, Lawson and Associates is the soil mechanics firm for the project.

Quail Hill, formerly owned by the Draper Companies, was recently foreclosed and is now owned by Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Association. Allen said Commerce Clearing House intends to purchase the property if its application is approved.

Anti-Bicycling Ordinance Before Larkspur Councilmen

The Larkspur City Council will consider an ordinance prohibiting bicycles, roller skates and other toy vehicles in commercial areas at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the city hall.

The council will have a public hearing on zoning the Sunrise Lane portion of Christmas Tree Hill, recently annexed from Corte Madera, for single-family residential, and will set a hearing date on annexation of part of Redwood High School to Larkspur.

Ross Valley Sanitary District has asked that a maintenance district be set up for the Greenbrae Marina, and the council may award a contract for installation of an 18-inch sewer main. Bids on the main will be opened at 10 a.m. tomorrow at city hall.

The council will name Larkspur's outstanding senior citizen and will designate May as senior citizens' month. Councilmen may also consider plans for a Fourth of July celebration.

Progress of the joint library study with Corte Madera is to be reported and a joint meeting of the city sign committee with the council and planning commission is to be scheduled.

Robert C. Burgee of 56 Millard Road had complained that the house and property of Laland Rose at 52 Millard Road is in disrepair and constitutes a public nuisance.

Prosecution Asked In Perjury Charge

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court yesterday took under submission a petition by Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman that the district attorney's office be forced to prosecute an alleged perjury case.

Dr. Ascherman, thwarted in his attempts for admission to Marin General Hospital's medical staff, filed the petition April 20 and the case was argued yesterday. He charged Vivian Schandelmeer, one of the hospital's hearing witnesses, falsely testified regarding an operation she claimed to have witnesses.

Injured In Fall

Benjamin A. Schock, 73, of 50 Estates Drive, San Anselmo was listed in good condition at Marin General Hospital today, after reportedly falling and injuring his back yesterday.

Draft Evasion Innocent Plea

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Carl Dean Wilson, a member of the Beach Boys, a rock 'n' roll group, says he is innocent of charges of draft evasion.

Wilson, 20, made his plea in federal court yesterday. His attorney, J. B. Tietz, says Wilson objects to the draft on religious grounds.

Wilson does not profess to be a member of any specific religious group, said the attorney, but objects to all wars.

Guilty Plea Entered In Quentin Escape

Sherwood Eugene Davis pleaded guilty yesterday to escape from San Quentin Prison, and was sentenced by Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson to a new one-to-10-year term, to run concurrently with his present term.

Davis escaped from the firehouse outside the prison walls on April 19, 1965, and was captured last Feb. 28 in Chicago. He was serving time for assault with a deadly weapon in San Francisco.

Air-Powered Typewriter Is Developed

WASHINGTON (SS) — Typewriters that work by compressed air have been designed since the early years of this century. The major drawback has been that they can't keep up with a fast typist.

Now, with the developing art of fluidic logic circuits, an air-powered typewriter has been patented that, the inventor claims, can operate at speeds up to 720 words per minute, faster than any typist can type.

The new typewriter has immovable keys with air holes in them. The typist's finger closes the hole, activating the mechanism. It was invented by Arnold Schonfeld of Sperry Rand Corporation's Univac Division.

The typewriter uses jets of air to push the type against the ribbon and paper. Between the keys and the type bank are fluid logic circuits, which have no moving parts and are cheap and easy to construct.

Type faces on the new machine are contained in a cylinder mounted on a flexible shaft. A motor drives the shaft at about 1,800 revolutions per minute.

The jet of air pushes a lever that knocks the shaft toward the paper, printing the desired letter.

Sperry Rand spokesmen said that no model of the macnine had been built yet but that an active program was being carried on at Univac to develop the concept.

Six-Month Probation On Bad Check Charge

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court yesterday placed Donna Mae Minosky, 22, on six months probation for two counts of possession of checks with intent to defraud.

Miss Minesky, of San Francisco, had the checks on Feb. 28 in San Anselmo. She pleaded guilty.

Judge Upheld Once Again In Teen Case

UKIAH (AP) — For a second time, the State District Court of Appeal has upheld Judge Robert Winslow who prohibits peace officers from releasing the names of juveniles involved in criminal investigations.

Judge Winslow reported in his Superior Court yesterday the appellate court's rejection of a petition by the attorney general's office which sought to overrule Winslow's order.

The Court of Appeal last fall rejected an appeal by Sheriff Reno Bartolomie and Dist. Atty. A. B. Broaddus of Mendocino County.

Both actions contended that Judge Winslow exceeded his authority and was invading the executive powers of law enforcement officers.

A final appeal would have to go to the State Supreme Court, Winslow said.

Ad Man Jailed In Stock Theft

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An advertising man was held in San Francisco jail today in the theft of $125,000 in blue chip stocks from a Chicago industrialist.

Robber Fires Shot Into Sausalito House

A robber, fleeing police after a Sausalito liquor store holdup Saturday night, fired a bullet through a door of a home after trying to get in, police learned yesterday.

Mrs. Nadine Hall of 124 Woodward Avenue said that shortly before 11 p.m. Saturday — only minutes after Patrolman Robert Glynn shot it out with two suspects in an automobile — someone knocked on her door and demanded, "Open up! Police officers!"

Mrs. Hall opened the door and saw a man with a gun. She slammed the door quickly and ran into the kitchen to call police. As she did, the man fired a shot through the door.

In her excited call to police, Mrs. Hall did not mention the shot. But yesterday, it was found embedded in a ceiling beam in the living room, police reported.

Police said the man was believed to be one of three who stole $297 in a holdup of the Bottle Shop at 771 Bridgeway after tying up a clerk, Paul J. Keever of Larkspur.

Patrolman Glynn found two of the men in a car driven by a blonde woman on Bonita Street. They escaped after an exchange of gunfire. The car was later found abandoned, with four bullet holes showing the effect of Glynn's fire.

One of the three men sought had been positively identified, Police Chief Edward S. Kreins said today. The other two men have been "tentatively identified," the chief said.

Mrs. Hall's call was one of many reporting shooting, and men with guns, that jammed police phones during and after Patrolman Glynn's gunbattle.

UAW Attacks Unfairness In Women's Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Auto Workers urged today that the federal government invalidate any state laws which tend to encourage job discrimination against women.

However, witnesses for the State of Wisconsin and the National Consumers League called on the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to leave state job laws as they are — at least for the time being.

The commission heard the divergent views at a public hearing on state laws in the field of protection for women.

Stephen I. Schlossberg, general counsel for the labor union, said the "state protective laws" have enabled employers to deprive women of jobs, promotions and overtime.

"Such laws do not protect women, they injure them," he said.

U. S. Demands County Pay For Health Center In '68

Marin County taxpayers will be tapped for the full county share of a community mental health center in next fiscal year.

County supervisors learned today that they cannot spread the county's $216,124 share over two taxing years, as planned last week.

The federal government, which is to put up nearly a third of the cost for the $1.5 million building at Marin General Hospital, will not commit its funds unless the Board of Supervisors agrees to issue tax anticipation notes to cover any fund lag that might arise in fiscal 1969, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell reported.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney advised against any commitment to issue such notes. He said it might seriously affect the county's credit.

To satisfy the federal requirement, the board agreed to raise the entire sum through property taxes next fiscal year unless some other source should appear. Mitchell said he saw no other source.

Thieves Strip Car Of Tires, Wheels

Thieves stole a 1965 Cadillac Saturday night from the parking lot of Peacock Gap Country Club, drove it to a secluded area of San Rafael and stripped the four tires and wheels from it, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

The car, reported stolen by owner David B. Ffye of 57 Grove Street, San Rafael, was found yesterday by Dan Hayes of 70 Manzanita Road, San Rafael, on dirt road near his residence.

FASHION MALL EVENT

Lucky Mothers Will Get Free Sunday Brunches

Three lucky Marin County mothers will enjoy a Mother's Day treat—a free Sunday brunch for themselves and their families at Alta Mira Hotel, Sausalito. Northgate Fashion Mall is offering the brunches as prizes in its Mother's Day celebration, tomorrow through May 13.

Youngsters can win the brunches for Mother and family by entering their mother's names at any of the 33 stores in Northgate Fashion Mall during the next 10 days. Sons and daughters must be under 16 years of age to enter. Winners will be notified immediately after the drawing at Northgate on Friday, May 12, at 4 p.m.

Brunch at the famous Alta Mira will be a delightful experience for the winning families. Nestled in a steep hillside over Sausalito, the hotel has been a favorite hostelry and restaurant in Marin County since the turn of the century. The outlook from the Alta Mira affords a breathtaking view of the San Francisco Bay, while surrounded by mountain pines, colorful gardens, and the artistic community of Sausalito below.

Brunch is served on the outdoor dining terrace where guests view the East Bay, Belvede, Angel Island, and the Bay Bridge. The Alta Mira chef entices gourmet guests from all over the area with his creative masterpieces at brunch and throughout the day.

Originally the home of a British artist, the Alta Mira stands on the estate of the late T. W. Jackson, and was once surrounded by a nursery. Jackson's son converted the home into an exclusive boarding house in the early 1900's, and when the home was destroyed by fire, he rebuilt the estate as a hotel. The hotel was acquired by its present owner, William Wachter, in 1954. He is responsible for the creation of the beautiful outdoor dining terrace and the modernization of the hotel and cottages.

A Summer Weekend At Tahoe

By MIRIAM GOODMAN

More good news for mothers. Besides the Alta Mira Hotel brunch awards, one lucky mom and her family will get a summer weekend at North Lake Tahoe as the top prize in the Mother's Day celebration at the Northgate Fashion Mall tomorrow through May 13.

The winners will stay at Nevada Lodge in the heart of all the fun and surrounded by beautiful scenery. Prize covers two nights accommodations, two dinners and two brunches. Nevada Lodge has complete resort-hotel facilities — heated pool, sun deck, boating, fishing, water skiing, horses for trail riding, golf course and at night there's its famous casino.

Entry blanks are available at each of the 33 shops on the Northgate Fashion Mall. Be sure to bring the youngsters. They can enter mom's name in the Mother's Day drawing, too.

NORTHGATE FASHION MALL'S theme this year is "48,793 Gift Ideas for Mother." For those who want suggestions, this is a real "live" shopping list. Gifts mothers love will be displayed near the pool on the mall and the array is sure to inspire anyone looking for something different.

HASTINGS, 2200 Northgate Fashion Mall is giving away 10 free weekend trips for two to Los Angeles. The first winner will be announced this week at the store. No purchase is required to win the flight by Pacific Southwest Airlines, accommodations at the Biltmore Hotel and a Valcar rent-a-car for the weekend. You need not be present to win.

CHARLES JONES has joined the Northgate family as new manager of Roos-Atkins store at 3000 Northgate Fashion Mall, returning after having served as an extra salesman when the store first opened. After that opener he went into the Roos-Atkins training program and then worked in San Mateo and El Cerrito.

He is a native of Marin. He graduated from Catholic High School and University of San Francisco; served in the Army and was recalled during the Berlin crisis. He was in the construction business before going with Roos Atkins.

Hobbies are water skiing, speed boat racing and sport car racing. He and his wife and 19-months old son have just moved into a home in Terra Linda.

ERNEST SANCHEZ is a new neighbor at Northgate Fashion Mall where he is manager of Leed's Shoes. He returns to Northgate as manager after helping to open the store three years ago. Since joining the company he has been with Leed's stores all over the Bay Area during a 40-month period.

He is a native of Hawaii, now lives in Terra Linda and is the father of a girl and boy. Hobbies are trout and steehead fishing and golf.

As a preview of Western Weekend in Novato in mid-June, Northgate is having its own special celebration. Beginning with a parade of authentic old west costumes, events will include contests for young and old, turtle races, melodramas, giant chuck wagon feed, awarding of exciting prizes — and much more. Several weekend vacations will be given away, including a trip to Roy Rogers' Apple Valley Inn.

On June 16, 17 and 18, Northgate will host the Terra Linda Artists Association Art Show. Painting, drawings, ceramics and sculpture will be exhibited and offered for sale or rent. "Art in Action" will be shown throughout the mall.

But that's next month. Meanwhile don't forget the May schedule: Mother's Day celebration May 3-13; Fire Service Day, May 6; and Carpenter Apprentice Day, May 20.

AT THE CITY OF PARIS in Northgate, Stewart Morton has been appointed manager. He was previously assistant personnel director for this organization. Previously he was a department manager for Emporium-Stafford and in hotel management for two years.

A native Californian, Morton is a graduate of the University of Colorado and did graduate work at Stanford University. He is a nephew of the late A. T. Stewart of San Rafael, founder of the San Rafael Military Academy and the Tamalpais School for Boys.

Mrs. Patricia Kirchmann, former store manager, is assuming new duties at the City of Paris store at Union Square, San Francisco.

If a South American vicuna, member of the llama family, is moved from its normal altitude of 14,000 feet to sea level it may die.

Fire Service Day Slated

Northgate Fashion Mall will host the San Rafael Fire Department next Saturday in a celebration of Fire Service Day.

Fire engines will be available for rides for children and picture taking by parents. Demonstrations of rescue breathing and resuscitators will be given. Visitors will see "resusci-Annie" in action. Annie is an inflatable rubber doll used for mouth-to-mouth resuscitation practice. She has "lungs" which react like a human's, enabling the person practicing to know if head positioning and timing is correct.

There will also be demonstrations of the regular resuscitator used regularly by firemen.

Color training slides will be shown at Northgate, demonstrating step-by-step processes of hose lays and ladder work. Pumping rigs, nozzles, hose and other fire-fighting equipment will be displayed, as will the rescue saw, uniforms and books.

A RESCUE — San Rafael Fire Department members simulate a rescue operation with a 50-foot extension ladder. This and other rescue processes will be demonstrated Saturday at Northgate Shopping Center when Fire Service Day is celebrated.

APPRENTICES' CRAFTSMANSHIP TO BE JUDGED

Carpenter apprentices competing at Northgate May 20 will work under the eyes of "tough" judges — past winners of the Carpenter Apprentice Day competition. This year's winners will receive savings bonds and tools. First place carpenter and cabinetmaker will be sent to San Diego for the state contest.

Carpenter Apprentice Day Is Slated May 20

Northgate Fashion Mall will host a Carpenter Apprentice Day on May 20 when apprentices in their last year of training compete for the honor of being named the outstanding carpenter apprentice in the Bay Area. Contestants will represent the apprenticeship programs in Marin, San Francisco, San Mateo, and Alameda counties.

Beginning at 9 a.m. on the mall at Northgate, apprentices will demonstrate the skill and knowledge they have acquired in on-the-job training and training classes during their four years of carpentry work. The contestantants will be given a blueprint and construction materials. Using hand tools only, each apprentice will construct an individual project in eight hours of manipulative competition.

The contest at Northgate will be judged by representatives of industry and labor, and the American Institute of Architects. The winner will be judged on the basis of craftsmanship.

Information booths and displays, plus a panel of "ask-the-experts" for do-it-yourself fans, will be provided at Northgate, May 20.

Chimps Giving The Answers

WASHINGTON (SS) — For how many seconds can a spacemen survive if his spacecraft or space suit should suddenly lose pressure? Chimpanzees have recovered without any noticeable brain damage or other residual effects after as long as three and a half minutes in the near vacuum of a simulated 150,000 feet, where pressure is only about 0.0013 that at sea level.

For almost three years, scientists at Holloman Air Force Base, N. Mex., have been trying to provide the National Aeronautics and Space Administration with some kind of timetable for lifesaving in case of explosive decompression in space.

Breathing pure oxygen, the chips began their test-chamber "flights" at 35,000 feet, equivalent to Apollo space-suit pressure of 3.5 pounds per square inch. Then the scientists pulled the cork, sending the pressure plummeting for from 5 to 210 seconds, after which the pressure was restored.

While the time of "useful consciousness" varied from 3.6 seconds to 29.7 seconds in different animals, a direct ration was found between the time spent in near vacuum and the time of total impairment and total behavior repair.

The chimps who lasted three and a half minutes without permanent effects took four hours to recover.

Sound Wave Glasses Aid To Blind

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Bobby Moses is blind, but if he puts on his glasses he can avoid trees, utility poles and holes in the sidewalk.

The glasses have a sonar-like device in the frame that sends out sound waves, too high-pitched for humans to hear. If the waves strike an object, they bounce back to a receiver which turns them into a beep, beep, beep sound that Bobby, 13, can hear.

Each object gives off its own peculiar sound so that Bobby can tell the difference between grass and cement, and between a man and a tree.

Bobby, a student at the Michigan School For The Blind, and Marshall Dean, 20, a student in electronic engineering at Lansing Community College, who developed the device, demonstrated the glasses at the Michigan State Library's Division for the Blind.

Dr. Leslie Kay of London, England, came up with the idea of a sonar-like device to help the blind. His system uses a set of earphones and a device that looks like a flashlight, which the blind person waves around to get soundings.

Dean put the device into glasses frames "because a person uses his head as his directional scanning device anyway. And, this way, his hands are not encumbered with any device."

Czechs Taking A Long Look

PRAGUE (AP) — People in Communist Czechoslovakia like a pleasant appearance just as much as people in the West.

A total of 140,000 persons were treated in 1965 at the Prague Institute of Cosmetics, the news agency CTK reported, and several hundred got surgical treatment for protruding ears, deformed noses or wrinkles. May others tried to get rid of "excess fat," CTK said.

Leukemia Death Rate Drops For First Time

WASHINGTON (SS) — Death rates for leukemia, cancer of the blood-forming organs, have gone down for the first time in the United States in the white population.

Less exposure to medical X-rays since widely publicized reports on the biologic effects of ionizing radiation is believed to be a possible explanation of the decline, researchers at the National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Md., report.

Although the decline has been greatest among children aged one to four, the death rates were lower in the most recent five-year period, 1961-65, in all age groups from one through 74 years.

It was in 1956 that the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council in the U.S. and the Medical Research Council in Great Britain issued reports on the radiation effects on man, and in the past 10 years there has been a downward trend jn exposures, Drs. Joseph F. Fraumeni Jr. and Robert W. Miller say in Science magazine for March 3.

Other explanations for the decrease should include improvements in leukemia therapy and diagnosis, the investigatores point out.

Quieter Jet Engine Developed In England

LONDON (SS) — A simpler jet engine — cheaper, lighter, and, by accident, quieter — has been developed in Great Britain.

The Rolls-Royce Trent engine has fewer moving parts than its sisters, and therefore generates less noise. More important to its designers, if not to those who live around airports, it cuts 10 per cent of the fuel bill, and an equal amount of weight and cost.

This is achieved by adding a third compressor fan. Each compressor section rotates on its own shaft, at the speed best suited to its job. ariable inlet vanes and stator blades are made unnecessary. Although the Trent is relatively small, Rolls-Royce feels the principle is applicable to engines up to 50,000 pounds of thrust.

Ceramic Pot Glaze Checks Mental Ills

By SCIENCE SERVICE

The therapeutic effects of lithium carbonate were outlined here by a scientist at the National Institute of Mental Health.

Dr. William E. Bunney said the inexpensive powder checks in intense manic excitement, but its role in depressive episodes is still questionable.

Manic-depressive psychosis is one of two major mental illnesses. It plays an important role in the 25,000 yearly U.S. suicides. The other is schizophrenia.

European scientists have been experimenting with lithium carbonate in the psychosis for about 15 years. Despite evidence the powder was effective, interes in the United States lagged until a couple of years ago when Dr. Bunney began his research.

He reported that within 24 hours after a patient is taken off the powder, mania returns. If works on the depressive phase bears out European research, lithium will become an important weapon against the disease, he said.

He cautioned, however, that the drug must be used with care. An overdose may have serious side effects. But in normal doses, lithium is apparently free of side effects.

Lithium also promises to aid in mapping the biochemistry underlying manic-depression.

Statue Head Stealing Concerning Italians

ROME (AP) — Statues of ancient Romans have been losing their marble heads and experts think it may be the work of specialists trying to fill orders from collectors abroad.

The Superintendency of Antiquities and Fine Arts said nine ancient statues have been decapitated in the past two years. Department experts doubted that it was the work of vandals or souvenir-hunting tourists. They said it seemed to be done by specialists filling specific orders.

Besides these specialized thefts, Italy suffers a steady drain of millions of dollars worth of other art and archaeological treasures taken from churches, museums and private collections.

Museum guards have been increased and safety systems —including closed television —have been installed in some art centers, but the problem of keeping heads on the statues presents unusual difficulties.

The wave of head snatching began in April 1965 when statues of Hermes, a toga-draped Roman and one of the philosopher Humanacos lost their heads in Rome's Villa Borghese Park. Its miles of winding roads are difficult to guard at night. Another Roman statue lost his head in the same park last April.

Climate Checks For Devices

SANTA CRUZ (AP) — Sylvania Electric Products Inc. has a "climate control room" which maintains a consistent temperature, within one degree Fahrenheit, to protect delicate electronic parts being processed to tolerances as minute as one-tenth the diameter of a human hair.

Normal temperature variations could cause expansion or contraction of intricate metal components used in electronic systems. This would cause size variations which would make it impossible to meet specifications sometimes as close as 90 millionths of an inch.

Because of its large numbers of educational institutions, Nashville is known as the "Athens of the South."

Luther Parchment Discovered In Urn

AVELLINO, Italy (AP) — A parchment sheet bearing the signatures of Martin Luther, leader of the German Reformation, and of Italian Prince Orsini has been found in an old urn in the garden of a monastery in this city inland from Naples.

The document, bearing the date of 1520, has been taken to Naples for examination by experts.

Model Aiding Rare Dental Research

By SCIENCE SERICE

WASHINGTON — The first step in preventing destruction of the bone around teeth has been taken in the development of a test-tube model system that simulates the production of the most prevalent dental disease in adults, a Harvard professor of periodntology reported here.

The system has demonstrated that the human gums possess and unknown factor that stimulates bone destruction, Dr. Paul Goldhaber told the 45th annual meeting of the International Association of Dental Research. Further studies are continuing in his laboratories in the hope of discovering the identity of the unknown factor.

What the researchers did was to obtain fragments of human gum tissue removed during routine periodontal surgery in the clinics of the Harvard School of Dental Medicine.

Tooth Decay Is Traced To Bottle Feeding

CHICAGO (SS)—Severe tooth decay in both British and American children have been traced to prolonged bottle-feeding.

When a child falls asleep with his bottle still in his mouth his teeth are exposed for prolonged periods to "fermentable carbohydrates" caused by sweetened milk, orange juice or water in his bedtime feeding.

Dr. Solomon N. Rosenstein of Columbia University says that his study involved 140 boys and girls from one and a half to 7 years old, all of whom had great amounts of decay. The British study, carried in the same publication, was almost identical.

Dr. Rosenstein found that the teeth most affected by decay were the upper incisors, followed by the first molars. The lower front teeth in bottle-feeders are protected somewhat by the tongue as it is extended to hold the bottle.

Dr. Rosenstein said that many of the older children in the group with widespread decay had an early history of prolonged use of bedtime bottles. When they were weaned they became habitual, almost continual, eaters of carbohydrate snacks.

Steps To Take In Finding The Best Quality China

Then you know how confusing it can be. Actually some dishes that look beautiful can be of inferior quality. Two pieces of china very much alike may not stay alike once they are in use. Inferior china is likely to fade, chip, crack or develop a network of tiny "crazes" over the surface.

Mrs. Karel Stribley, bridal consultant at Stribley's, Northgate, has compiled this list of seven steps in recognizing fine china:

Test translucency by holding a plate up to the light. If you see "puddles" or thick areas, it is not the finest.

Carefully examine a cup. Run your finger around its rim. Reject any china with rough, warped or wavy edges.

Check on the glaze—the glass-like coating on the surface. It should be completely smooth, with no waviness — no heavy pools, bumps, pits or blisters.

Look at the color of the body. Whatever the basic color it should be perfectly even and have a suggestion of clarity. Dull colors indicate inferior quality.

Consider shape and size. Is the china well proportioned and pleasing to the eye? Put your finger through the cup handle. Is it too small for a man's hand? Be sure the cups are in balance and won't tip easily.

Closely examine the pattern and trim. Are there any small breaks or bubbles? Is the platinum or gold trim unevenly applied and "brassy" looking? If so, it is not the finest.

JEWEL - LIKE EFFECT — Lenox China's famous Rutledge pattern is created by hand-applied raised enamel dots. Not every pattern is as intricate as this but each decoration requires careful work and craftsmanship. Lenox and other brands are now being shown at Stribley's, Northgate, for Mother's Day, wedding or birthday gifts.

Faster And Faster And . . .

About 50 years was required to move from the Wright brothers' airplane to craft with speeds in excess of 700 miles an hour.

Less than a decade was required to increase aircraft speeds from 700 to more than 4,000 miles an hour.

Now astronauts and cosmonauts are zipping through space 17,500 miles an hour. When men head for the moon, peak speed will be nearly 25,000 miles an hour.

Swamp Water Control Tough

MIAMI (AP)—Efforts to control water in the Florida Everglades have met with indifferent success although many millions have been spent over the years.

Battle Is On: 1-Word Books

BELGRADE (AP) — Twenty-seven years ago Yugoslav Radivej Momirski won a prize here for writing what was described as the shortest book in the world. Its title was "Who Rules the World?"

Inside was a single page with just one word: "Money." It was reprinted in several languages, bu. now another Yugoslav, Isoje Stefanovic, is publishing a book he insists is even shorter. the title is "War." Inside is just one word. "No."
